Item 1, paragraph 422, page 153 of the Towne Genealogy lists Lewis Seelye Town(e) as the only child of John Milton and Clarinda Lee Town(e). This paragraph indicates that no children were born to Lewis Seelye and Rose Stubley Town(e) at the time the book was published in 1901, but they had 3 children, as follows;

Elizabeth Town(e) born at Rose, N.Y. Sept 21, 1903
Milton Lewis Town(e) born Rose, N.Y. Nov. 30, 1905
 Captain, US Army Air Force World War 2
Ruth Lee Town(e) born at Rose, N.Y. March 23, 1907
 Married C.W. Skutt at Rose, N.Y. No children.

Lewis Seelye Town(e) died at Rose, N.Y. November 17, 1945. His wife, Rose Stubley Town(e) died at Rose, N. Y. October 10, 1929

Milton Lewis Town(e) married Virginia P. Wilson at Rose, N. Y. March 19, 1942. Their children;

Edward Lewis Town(e) born June 28, 1943 at Hempstead, long Island, N. Y.
Jane Stubley Town(e) born February 18, 1947 at Rochester, N. Y.
Linda Lee Town(e) born March 14, 1949 at Rochester, N. Y.

(Family resides at 311 Troy Road Rochester, N.Y.

Item i, paragraph 422, page 153 of the "Towne Genealogy" lists Lewis Seelye Town as the only child of John Milton and Clarinda Lee Town (The letter "e" is not used in the spelling of the last name by Silas Town and his descendents). This paragraph 422 indicates that no children were born to Lewis Seelye and Rose Stubley Town. However, there were three children, all of whom were born after the book was published:

Elizabeth Town born Rose, N.Y. Sept 21, 1903.
Milton Lewis Town born Rose, N.Y. Nov 30, 1905.
(Captain, US Army Air Corps, World War II)
Ruth Lee Town born Rose, N.Y. March 23, 1907
She was married to O. Watson Skutt at Rose in 1937. Two children:
Judy Skutt born May 5, 1941
Doris Skutt born April 28, 1942. She married Max Natzet of New York 1961.

Lewis Seelye Town died at Rose Nov. 17, 1945. His wife, Rose Stubley Town died at Rose on Oct. 10, 1929. Both interred Rose Cemetery.

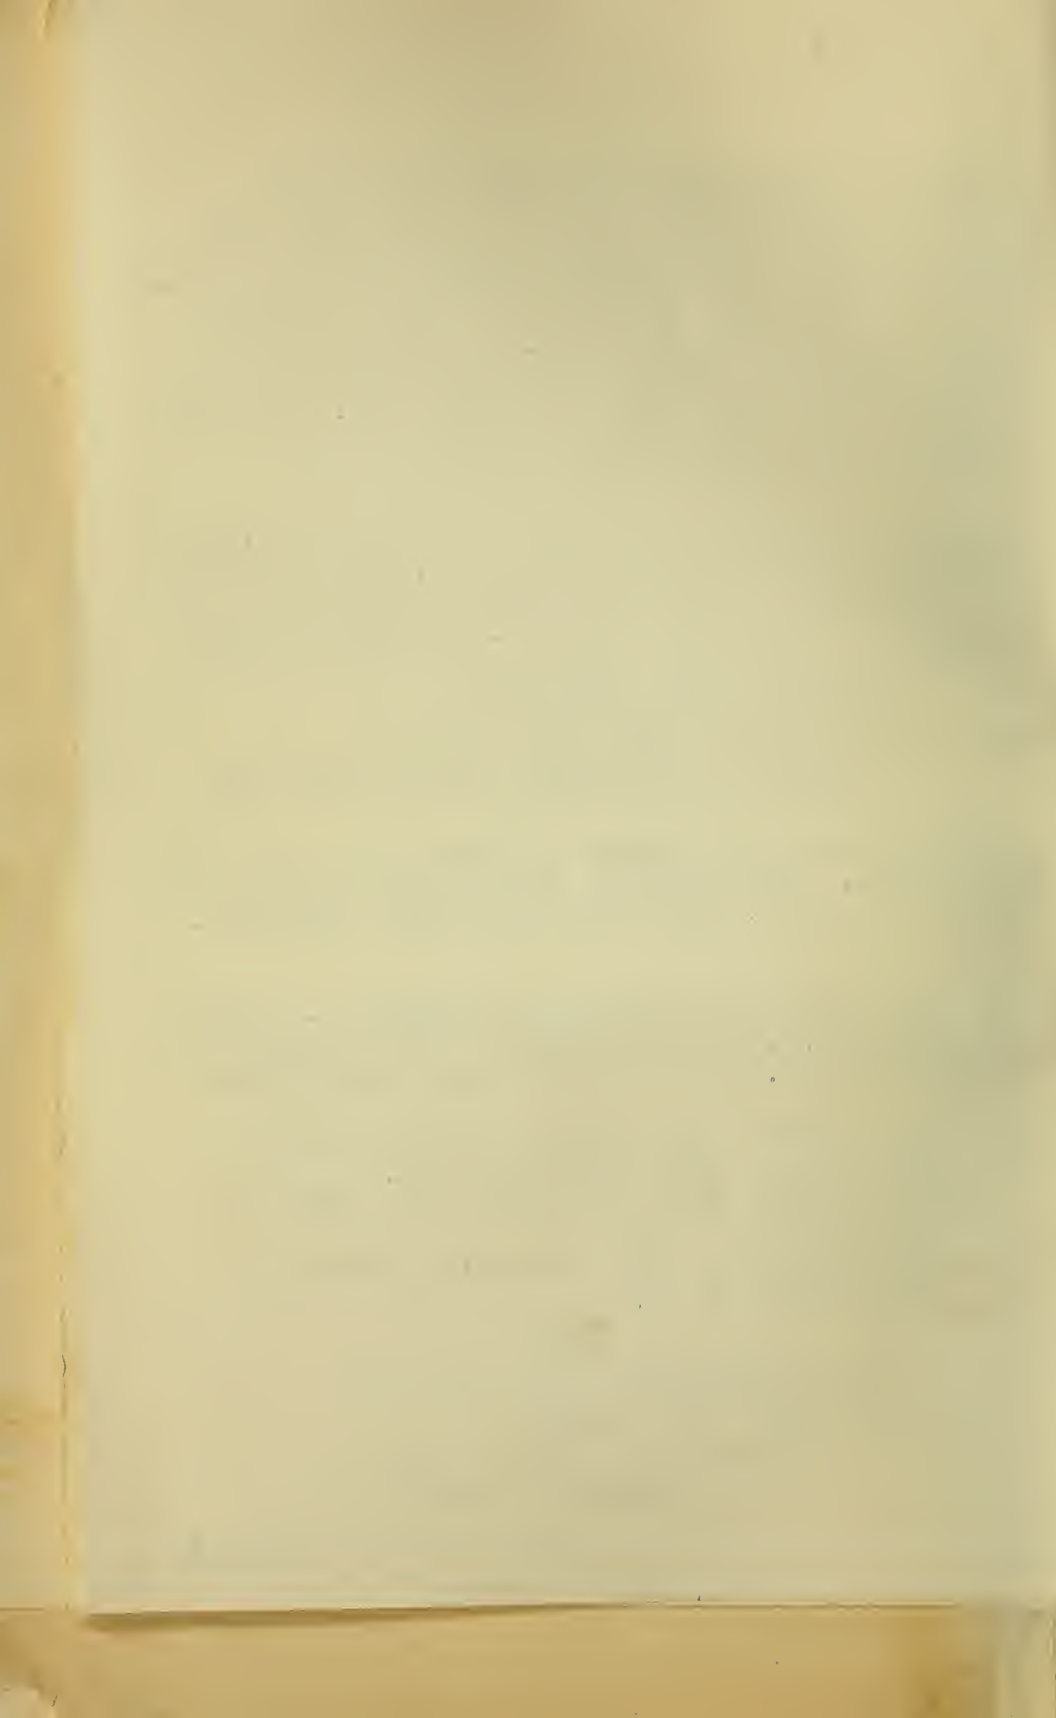

Milton Lewis Town married Virginia P. Wilson at Rose, N.Y. March 19, 1942. They reside at Rochester, N.Y. with their three children:

Edward Lewis Town born June 28, 1943 at Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y.
Jane Stubley Town born Feb. 18, 1947 at Rochester, N. Y.
Linda Lee Town born March 14, 1949 at Rochester, N. Y.

Item 11, paragraph 423, page 153 of the "Towne Genealogy" lists Norris E. Towne (he used the "e" in the spelling of his name) as the only son, born Jan. 28, 1876, of Theron Eugene and Ellen Norris Town. After the publication of this book Norris E. Towne was married to Lottie Davis at Rose, N.Y. on March 12, 1905. Two children:

Carlton Eugene Towne born Mar.7, 1908 at Rose. He was married to Anna Lewis on April 15, 1944. Corporal, US Army Medical Corps, World War II. He died Aug. 23,1946. Their child:

Norris Eugene Towne born June 9, 1946

Norris Seelye Towne born April 22, 1910 at Rose. He was married to Dorothy H. Gage at North Rose Oct 28, 1939. They reside at Rochester, N.Y. with their children:

Dorothy Lee Towne born October 20,1944
at Rochester

Lynne Seelye Towne born January 14,1950
at Rochester

Norris E. Towne died January 3, 1933. His wife, Lottie D. Towne died June 17, 1951. Both are buried at Rose Cemetery.

NEW-ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY,
18 SOMERSET STREET,
BOSTON, MASS., March 16, 1901.

EDWIN EUGENE TOWNE, Esq.

Dear Sir,—In regard to the supposed Towne arms which you have submitted to me, viz., argent, on a chevron gules three crosses crosslet of the first, I beg to say that, so far as I am able to find, they are a Norwood arms. If the chevron were sable instead of gules, it would make them an arms ascribed to a Towne, or Attowne, family; and it may be that the engraver neglected to put across the vertical lines, which signify gules, the horizontal lines, which would then signify sable.

But as the English ancestry of William Towne, of whose descendants the genealogy treats, has never been established, it would be very misleading to make use of any particular arms in connection with him, for it might eventually be found that he was of a totally different Towne family, and not armigerous.

Yours very truly,

HENRY E. WOODS,
Chairman Committee on Heraldry.

The above letter is plain. As is well known, a coat of arms does not belong with a family name, but only to the particular family to whose progenitor it had been granted, and is as purely an individual piece of property as a homestead. And as the necessary proof is wanting to establish our right to use any particular arms, it is deemed the wiser course to omit its use either in or on the book.

THE AUTHOR.

INTRODUCTION

INTEREST in the subject of genealogy is growing more and more every year, and it is one which should be kept up for all time. This genealogical form of history can be found among the ancient records of Greece, Egypt, Arabia, and other old countries, and Josephus is said to have regarded genealogical study of very great importance; and the writer has personally known of the importance of keeping the connection of births and deaths, and dates of same, between generations in the matter of establishing claims for legacies.

In presenting this book to the public, the compiler begs the indulgence of its readers. There may be errors. It would be strange if there were none, but he will not be held responsible for the same. Much of the historical and genealogical matter has been obtained from town records and histories, from church, court, and probate records, from records collected by the late William Bradford Towne, and the "Towne Memorial" by Edwin Hubbard, and Historical and Genealogical Register. But the genealogy of the last fifty years has been mostly obtained from private family records, and some of a much earlier date. These are supposed to be correct. But in some instances it has been very difficult to determine what the real name or figure was originally intended to be. Some old Bible records have almost faded away.

Reasons for publishing this work: First, the compiler wanted for himself the information he has obtained. Second, in corresponding he found a general desire for the same. Third, every previous publication related only to one particular branch of the family, excepting the book by Edwin Hubbard, and this left many families apparently without descendants. The compiler has been able to trace over one hundred and fifty of those families, mostly to the present time. Fourth, these smaller works impressed him with the desirability of a book covering all the branches of the name wherever found. It is a natural instinct of our natures to want to know whence we came, and who were our ancestors, and the place of their origin and their history, if obtainable. To what extent these ideas have been carried out remains for the reader to judge.

It is a noticeable fact that we have been a very patriotic race. In all our struggles to maintain our integrity as a nation, we (our ancestors) have been found in the front ranks. In our early struggles with the Indians, then in the French and Indian War, then in the Revolution, again in the War of 1812, and in the Civil War, and later in the Spanish War,—in all these our family name will be found on the enlistment rolls. No one name in the early wars appears on the records in larger numbers. It is to be regretted that some more extended records were not made and kept in the earlier years of those noble men who fought, that we, their descendants, might enjoy that freedom which they sought. Let us cherish their memory and their heroic deeds and their patriotism!

If any person can say that he does not care who his grandfather was, or what he was, he might possibly feel a little chagrined if he could know that his children or grandchildren would care as little for him.

It will be observed that there are some of whom no record is given after the date of their birth. These may have died in childhood, but no records are found, and it may be that some of these are the ancestors of those whose records appear on the last pages, and noted as “ancestors not found.”

The records are arranged by generations, each by itself, so there is no difficulty in tracing your ancestry. The compiler does not know that any have been born great, but he does know that many of our name, by their industry, honesty, perseverance, executive ability, and a laudable ambition, have obtained positions, each in his own particular chosen profession, which any person might envy. In their respective localities some have attained distinction in the profession of law, others in the ministry, others in literary work, and some in political life; and, while the honest farmer and mechanic is less heard from in this noisy and busy world, there will come a time in the future when he will occupy and fill as high a position as any.

What this book contains is the result of more than three years' attention to its collection. If the records herein shall be the means of keeping from oblivion some of our ancestors of the past, as well as their descendants to the present time, then one other object of the writer will have been accomplished. It is hoped that this demand for records from almost every family will stimulate them to give more attention to the records of births, marriages, and deaths in the future.

The descendants of William and Joanna are now widely scattered, and are to be found in most of the Northern and Western States. The lack of dates and places of birth and a lack of records of the places to which they removed have made it a very difficult task to trace them, making it almost impossible to find the addresses of some of the descendants of the last two or three generations.

In conclusion, the compiler wishes to render his sincere thanks to every person who has given assistance in any way, who has so readily, in most instances, responded to his requests for information. To each and every one he is grateful, but their numbers are too large to name them individually. Let none feel that they are not gratefully remembered. Their letters, over one thousand, are preserved.

EXPLANATION

Where no State is given Massachusetts is understood. b. for born ; d. for died ; dau. for daughter ; s. for son ; wid. for widow ; m. for married ; unm. for unmarried ; res. for resides ; gen. for generation. The full-faced numbers against the names of the males indicate that their families will be found under same number on pages following, and by reversing the method the line is easily traced back. The reader will look in the index for any name he wishes and find it under page indicated. The names in parentheses following show the line of descent from William, the first settler in this country ; and the small figures denote the generation. Those under fifteen are not indexed. Some names may appear more than once on a page.

THE DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM TOWNE*

HISTORICAL MEMORANDA

OF THE NAME IN ENGLAND, FROM A.D. 1274 TO 1630

[Copied from the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, Vol. XX, p. 367, and Vol. XXI, pp. 12-15, as published by the late WM. B. TOWNE, Esq., of Milford, N. H.]

The name of Towne, or Town and Towns, as it is sometimes spelled, may be found here and there, generally in communities of Anglo-Saxon derivation. Surnames began to be used in England about the time of the Norman Conquest, and, from century to century, for three or four centuries, continued to be adopted till they came into general use.

The earliest existence of it known to the writer, William B. Towne, is A.D. 1274, when William de la Towne, of Alvely, a village in Shropshire, about twenty miles southeast of Shrewsbury, the capital of the county, was, at that time, engaged in the prosecution of a suit-at-law against one of the officers of the parish, and the year following was on a jury at Astley, in the same county.

The next we hear of the name is one hundred and thirty or forty years later, in the reign of Henry IV, when upon the windows of the church in Kennington, Kent County, impaled with that of Ellis of the same place, were the arms of a family by this name, being argent, on a chevron, sable, three cross-crosslets, ermine. Thomas at Towne, who, at this time, possessed much land about Charing, and who bore the same coat of arms, married Benedicta, only daughter of John Brampton, alias Detling, of Detling Court, and thereby inherited a manor in Throwley, where he removed, and erected a seat about one fourth of a mile from the church, and named it "Towne Place," soon after which he died, leaving his possessions to three daughters, co-heiresses.

Of these, Eleanor married Richard Lewknor, of Challock; Bennet, or Benedicta, married William Watton, of Addington; and Elizabeth became the wife of William Sondes, of the same parish.

*Family records in the possession of one of the descendants of William and Joanna (Blessing) Towne say that he was born in 1600 and came to this country in 1630 from Bristol, England, and settled in the "Province of Massachusetts Bay." It is to be regretted that records do not agree, but the compiler believes this correct, for no records were kept in the town of Salem until after 1634 and he might not have been able to buy real estate till 1640, when his name appears on town records for the first time.

The estate was divided about A.D. 1446, when Throwley was allotted to Eleanor, the wife of Richard Lewknor.

From the manner of the division, it is quite evident that he died without leaving descendants to transmit his name to posterity. The next reference to the name, known to the writer, is in the county of Lincoln, where it has existed for more than four hundred years. In A.D. 1459, William Town, D.D., became clergyman of the parish at Stow in Lindsey, in this county; and in A.D. 1470, he was appointed Almoner to King Henry VI. in accordance with the following commission, the original of which is in Latin:—

Concerning the goods of such as commit suicide, and the collection of things given or forfeited to God.

The King to all, to whom; etc. Greeting.

Although we refer to it with grief, divers persons of our realm, unmindful of the salvation of their souls, laying aside the fear of God, consenting to diabolical instigation, frequently destroy themselves, as well by hanging as by the sword, by drowning or other methods. Whose goods and chattels, by right of Our Crown, ought to accrue to our Almonry (or fund for benevolence), as the goods and chattels are known to do of those, who, without intention, by accident, may have, unfortunately, killed or caused the death of our subjects, as horses, carts, chariots, ships, boats, and such like, commonly called Deodands.* Nevertheless, at the wary suggestion of some of our subjects, goods and chattels, of this kind, are fraudulently withdrawn from our aforesaid Almonry, and, as is said, are not at all applied to it.

We, considering the premises, have, of our special grace, granted, so far as in us lies, to our beloved clerk (or clergyman), William Towne, our Almoner, in augmentation of our Fund for Alms, all the goods and chattels aforesaid, forfeited (?) by the death of persons, as above, who destroy themselves; which goods, chattels, and Deodands now belong, or ought to belong, to us, in any place within our realm of England, from the beginning of our reign to the present time, and for the period in which he has been our Almoner. Moreover, appointing him our Almoner, to make inquiry, from time to time, as often as may be necessary, respecting goods, chattels, and Deodands of such kind as

* "Deodands." The laws of our English forefathers, respecting this subject, are exceedingly curious; as also such accounts as have been preserved of the practical application of the said laws. Encyclopedia Britannica, ninth edition, Vol. VII, pp. 100, 101, gives us the following: "Deo Dandum, in English law, was a personal chattell (any animal or thing), which on account of its having caused the death of a human being, was forfeited to the King, for pious uses" (omnia que movent ad mortem sunt deodanda—Bracton). The antiquity of this law is discussed by Blackstone, who quotes the Mosaic law: "If an ox gore a man that he die," etc. (see Exodus 21:28-31); and the Athenian law: "That whatever was the cause of a man's death was to be exterminated or cast out of the dominions of the republic." This law of deodands was not formally repealed until the 9 and 10 Vict., c. 62, was passed in 1846.

This law seems to have been based upon the assumption (not always true in every case) that every man's life was of value to the community in which he resided.

In its practical operation, no question was admitted as to blame or carelessness. Simply, Did it cause death? If so, a fine or deodand was assessed at the discretion of the magistrate; and if the person claiming ownership of the article or animal refused or neglected to pay, the thing subject to deodand was sold, and the proceeds applied to charitable purposes.—E. H.

aforesaid, and to seize on, take and carry off the same, by himself, or his deputy, or sufficient deputies, wherever they may be found within our kingdom, as well within the liberties as without. And to distribute them, thus levied and collected, by himself, for us, in Alms, wherever he may think it best. Commanding and prescribing to all and singular the Viscounts, Mayors, Bailiffs, Coroners, Escheators, Constables, and all other our officers and servants, as when within the liberties as without, and to each of them, by the tenor of these presents, that in the execution of the premises, they be supporters, superintenders, comforters, aids, and defenders to our aforesaid Almoner, and his said deputies, under the peril which threatens them. Any statue, resumption, authority of Parliament, or of our council, made, or to be made, in this behalf, or any other thing, cause or matter, whatever to the contrary, held, done, or perpetrated, notwithstanding.

In Testimony whereof, etc.

Witness, the King, at Westminster, on the tenth day of December, A.D. 1470.*

In old age he accepted an income † from the parish, and died A.D. 1496.

In 1470, John Towne, Professor of Divinity, succeeded Alexander Prowett as Precentor (Leader of the choir in a Cathedral) of Lincoln, which place he resigned in 1473 for the Prebend of Dunholme.

In the "History of Norfolk, England," by Blomefield, is mentioned Robert Towne resigned his rectorship of Hockwold in 1580; also Isaack Manor, East Beckham, Norfolk, was conveyed to Sir Samuel Towne, Knight, and an account of Alderman Towne's pedigree of Nottingham, 1760.

John Towne, of Irby, county of Lincoln, made his will November 18, 1540. To be buried in the Church of St. Andrew, at Irby. Legacies to Anne, Thomas, and George Towne; his brother William, of Irby, being principal heir and executor. This will was proved June 1, 1541. John Towne, of Ludborough, county of Lincoln, executed his will under date of January 24, 1637—sons, Leonard, John, and William, and brother Richard Towne. Richard Towne, of Braceby, in the same county, married Ann — and had children as follows:—

1. Richard, who died in 1617, leaving wife Alice, son Leonard, and daughter Helen, not twenty-one years of age.
2. Edward, who had children in 1630.
3. Elizabeth, who married Phillips.

* Rymer's Fœdera, Vol. XI, pp. 668, 669.

† His income was £6 13s. 4d. per annum, and he was buried in Kings College Chapel, with this epitaph:—

"Hic Jacet Magister
Will. Towne, Doctor in Theologica quondam
Socius hujus collegii qui obiit 11 die
Mensis Marti anno Incarnationis
Dominici M. C. C. C. X. C. V. I."

4. Helen, who married Oxman.
5. Prudence, who married Walton.
6. Ann, who married Armestone.
7. Katherine, baptized October 14, 1599.
8. Mary, baptized April 15, 1601.
9. William, baptized May 21, 1603.
10. Margery.

The earliest we find the name in America is 1635, when William Towne was an inhabitant of Cambridge.

On the eighteenth of the second month (April), 1637, he appeared before the General Court, and took the requisite oath to become a free-man, or voter. He was town clerk in 1639; purchased land at Cambridge in 1653, of David Stone and Thomas Danforth, and in 1655, of Edmund Goffe; was tything-man in 1680, and died April 30, 1685, aged eighty years. Amount of his estate, £118 13s. 6d. The name of his wife was Martha, and she died in January, 1674. Their children were:—

1. Peter, born in England, about the beginning of the year 1633.
2. Mary, born at Cambridge, Mass., in 1637.

Peter Towne married, first Joanna, second Elizabeth, who was living at Braintree, Mass., in 1724. He was administrator of the estate of his father, and from its settlement appears to have been an only son; was a constable at Cambridge in 1668, 1676, 1690, 1691, and 1694; selectman in 1695, and died November 2, 1705, aged 72 years 10 months. His name may be found upon a tombstone at Cambridge, with the inscription partially obliterated. The following is a copy of his will, and the final settlement of his estate indicates that he left no one to transmit his name to posterity, and that, with the death of his widow, the name became extinct, so far as relates to this family at Cambridge:—

In ye name of God. Amen. I Peter Towne of Cambridge in New England, being Weak in Body, but of sound mind, do make this my last Will and Testam^t. Impr. I com'nd my Soul to ye mercy of God in Jesus Christ, and my body to ye Grave decently to be buryed without profuseness according to ye discretion of those whom I shall constitute ye Overseers of this my last will and Testam^t; and as to my Temporall Estate my will is that it be thus disposed of: First of all, I will and bequeath to my Dear Wife the whole of my Real Estate, to be quietly enjoyed and possessed by her so Long as she shall continue my Widow. It. I will and bequeath to my dear Wife the sum of one hundred pounds money, to be disposed of by her as she shall see meet. Item. I will and bequeath to my Dear Wife my silver Cups, my beds and bedding, all my Pewter and brass, and all my other household stuff to her and her heirs forever. Item. I will and bequeath to my Dear Wife ye three Gold Rings as also ye three pounds odd money m^ony

French money, w^{ch} is in a small purse, to her and her heirs forever. Item. I will and bequeath to my Brother Samuel Pain of Brantrey, ye sum of three pounds money to be paid wth in six months after my decease. Item. My Will is with respect to my Negro Servants, That Mingo shall have his freedom when he gains his health as soon as he pleases, and yt in the mean time he be carefully look'd after and maintained out of my estate; That Charles shall faithfully Serve my Wife, ye full term of four years after my decease, and that then he have his freedom. Only in case my Wife marryes before ye term of four years be expired, then Charles upon her marriage have his freedom; That Fidella live with my Wife and serve her faithfully ye space of seven years after my decease, and in case my wife continue my Widow three years more than these seven years and need Fidella's help, then Fidella shall live three years longer with my wife and then have her freedom; And if my wife dies before Fidella comes to ye age of twenty years, then my will is that Fidella shall be put into some sober Religious family at ye discretion and according to the direction of my Overseers, to live there as a servant till she come to be twenty years old, and Fidella to have ye benefit and advantage of what should be allowed her for her service in ye said time, then to have her freedom. Item. My will is, that as my servants come to have their freedom They shall each have ten pounds money paid them by my Executrix; and if either dyes before ye time of their freedom, their Legacye to go to ye surviving, and be equally divided among ym. Item. My will is, that when my wife dyes or ceases to be my widow, Then the whole of my Real Estate shall be divided among my five first cousins living at Bridgewater, viz.: my cousin John Howard, my cousin Nathaniel Howard, my cousin Joseph Howard, my cousin Elisha Howard, and my cousin Mary Mitchell, to be unto them and their heirs forever. Provided, however, and it is my Will, that in case my cousin Joseph Howard will give to Stephen his Negro servant his freedom when he comes to be six and twenty years old, then he shall have twenty pounds more of this my Real Estate, when it comes to be divided, than my other cousins, and that otherwise he shall have no interest therein. Item. My Will is that my once negro servant Jane, who lives at Boston, shall have ye sum of five pounds paid her within six months after my decease; Also I will and bequeath to my wife's mother (Hannah Wilbur) the sum of three pounds money, to be paid in three months after my decease. And if so much of my estate shall after all this remain undisposed of by me my will is, that thirty pounds shall be paid to ye easing of ye poorer sort of people in Cambridge, yt shall be rated to ye building a new meeting house at ye discretion and ordering of my Overseers, Deacon Hastings and Sam'l Cooper being joined with them; Provided and it still being my will, yt the Town within ye space of three months after my decease do meet and by a Publick Vote agree upon y^s new building to be begun, and set about forthwith, as also yt they do not put my Dear Wife or any part of her estate into the rate for the said building when they come to make the rate; Otherwise what I have willed with respect to the New Meeting house shall be altogether void and insignificant. And as to what shall yet remain undisposed of by me, I will and bequeath ye improvement and use of it to my Dear Wife so long as she shall continue my Widow, to be improved by her for her comfort and support. It being provided yt she does not run any hazard of losing ye money by letting it to one person or another, and at her death or marriage what remains shall be equally disposed of and divided among my five cousins aforementioned. Ite. My Will is that my loving and trusty friends Nath^l Hancock, sen., Solomon Prentiss, sen., and Nicholas Fessenden, sen., be ye Overseers of y^s my Last Will and Testament, and that they be each allowed ye sum of Twenty shillings money. Finally I do constitute and appoint my Dear Wife ye sole executrix of this my Will.

In Witness to all wh. I hereby set my hand and seal this Twenty-eighth day of May, in ye year of Our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and five. A memorandum before signing That it is my desire y^t my Dear Wife do let Mr. Nicholas Fessenden, School master have five pounds as a token of my respect to him, unless my wife shall want it for her own comfort — she to be judge.

PETER TOWN, [L.S.]

Signed Sealed and published in presense of William Brattle, Nathaniel Hancock, Sen., Owen Warland.

WILLIAM TOWNE, OF SALEM, MASS., 1640; SUPPOSED SON OF RICHARD TOWNE, OF BRACEBY, ENGLAND.

[From the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, Vol. XXI, pp. 12-15.]

The earliest positive information we have relative to him is at Yarmouth, Norfolk County, a city of considerable maritime importance, situated on the east coast of England, one hundred and eight miles in a direct line, and one hundred and twenty miles by railroad northeast of London. The origin and early history of this place, like many others in the British Kingdom, is quite obscure. The Romans, in the first century of the Christian Era, had a frontier military post * near here, and later it was called Cerdick's sand, or Cerdick's shore, deriving its name from Cerdick; a warlike Saxon, who, A.D. 496, with his son Cenrick, and a fleet of five ships, invaded the country at this point, entered the mouth of the river Yare, fought a battle, put the Britons to flight, and founded a colony. It being a low, marshy neighborhood, the location proved unhealthy; the settlement was finally abandoned, and the colony took up their residence with the West Saxons.*

*The fortification is about three miles west of the city, and was erected by Publius Ostorius about the middle of the first century. This noble monument of Roman art, the most considerable and perhaps the most perfect to be found in Britain, is built upon the brow of the hills which skirt the eastern bank of the river Waveney, at its confluence with the Yare. Quadrilateral in its form, it makes an almost regular parallelogram, its length being 640 feet and its breadth 370 feet, the space within the walls of the camp comprising nearly six acres. The walls are about 10 feet in height, about 9 feet in thickness, and are constructed of rubble masonry, faced with flint, interlaced in regular courses of about 21 inches by three layers of tiles or bricks about 2 inches apart. The bricks are red, of a fine, close texture, and as they lay in the wall, a surface is exposed 1½ by 9 inches, and so solid and enduring is the masonry that the writer found it difficult to procure on the premises a piece of the flint and brick an inch square as a sample of the material of which the wall was built, and a memento of a visit to this interesting locality.

Henry Manship, Sen., a merchant in 1560, the reputed author of a very reliable and carefully prepared manuscript† history of the place, who tells us he was here "bredd and borne," thus speaks of its origin: "First of the Antiquity of the Towne and Burroughe of Great Yermouthe. The very seate of that Tywne, that is to saye, the place and ground where uppon the Towne is buylded and now dothe stand, was percell of a greate sande lyinge within the mayne sea, at the mouthe of the fludd or ryver called Heirus, being contynuallye under water and overflown wythe the sea, of which river the name of the same Towne was derived when it was firste named, vidz. Heirmouth, or otherwise without aspiration it was called Yermouth. And the tyme that yt was a sand in the sea was when Kynge Canutus reigned in England and long before, which was aboute the yere of our Savior Jesus Christ, his Incarnacion, One Thousand, as by auncient recordes thereof yt doeth appeare." He also says that "in the tyme of the Reigne of Kinge Edward the Confessour the saide sand beganne to growe into sighte at the lowe water, and to become more showlder at the mouthe of the said Floode called Heirus, and then there were channells for Shippes and Fyshermen to pass and enter into the arme of the Sea for utterance of there Fishe and Merchandizes, which were conveyed to diverse partes and places as well in the Countye of Norfolk as in the Countye of Suffolke by reason that all the whole levell of the marshes and fennes which now are betwixt the Towne of Yermouth and the citie of Norwiche, were then all an arme of the Sea, entering within the Lande by the mouth of the Hierus. And this was about the yere of our Savior M. and XL. and long before."

He further says: "In the tymes of the Reygnes of Kinge Harrolde and Kinge William the Conqueror, the sayde sande did growe to be drye, and was not overflowen by the Sea, but waxed in heighte, and also in greatness, in so muche as greate store of people of the counties of Norff. and Suffolke did resorte thither, and did pitche Tabernacles and Bothes for the entertaynenge of such Seafaringe men and Fishermen and Merchants as would resorte unto that place, either to sell their Herringes, fish, or other comodities, and for providinge suche thinge as those Seamen did neede and wante.

* Blomefield and Parkin's History of Norfolk, and Swinden's History of Yarmouth.

† Very ably edited by Charles John Palmer, Esq., F.S.A., and published in two volumes, with plates; the first volume in 1854, and the second in 1856, but now entirely out of print. The original manuscript is in his possession.

“The which things caused greate store of Seafaringe men to resorte thither; but especiallie the fishermen of this Land; as also greate numbers of the Fishermen of Fraunce Flaunders, and of Holland, Zeelande, and all the lowe Countryes. And in the tyme of the Reigne of Kyng William Rufus, Kinge of this Realme, one Herbertus, Bishopp of the see of Norwich, perceyvenge greate resorte and concourse of people to be daylie and yearlie uppon the said Sande, and intendinge to provide for their sowles healthe, did founde and buylde uppon the said Sande a certen Chappell for the devotion of the people resorting thither, and therein did place a Chappelayne of his owne to saye and read divine service.”

In this church, founded in A.D. 1123, dedicated to St. Nicholas in 1251,* and still retaining the name, were married, March 25, 1620, William Towne and Joanna Blessing, and here their first six children were baptized.

CHURCH OF ST. NICHOLAS

*The extreme length of this structure is 230 feet, its greatest width 154 feet. The lot upon which the church stands contains upwards of eight acres, and the writer (W. B. Towne) noticed the following New England names upon the tombstones, namely, Bailey, Briggs, Bowles, Cobb, Clark, Collins, Carr, Dawson, Ellis, Edwards, Fiske, Fowler, Forster, Fuller, Francis, Giles, Gray, Goddard, Hart, Herbert, Johnson, Kemp, Lowe, Lawrence, Lee, Marston, Marshall, Moore, Mason, Nichols, Pearson, Plummer, Pearce, Reed, Read, Shepard, Symonds,

The next we hear of this family is at Salem, Essex County, Mass., where, in the book of early grants, appears the following: "11, 8 mo., 1640, granted to Wm. Towne, a little neck of land right over against his house on the other side of the river." He is also referred to in the court records of the same year, thus: "17th st., last of 4th mo., and 1st, 5th mo., 1640. Wm. Towne, pl. agt. Jn^o Cook def. in act of debt, Jury find for pl. some to be deputed to measure John Cook's land, and what is remaining, to make up Goodman Town's land and if it be ffyve acres to pay Towne ffyve marks, and what is wanting of ffyve acres to abate 13s. 4d. p. acre: And costs 4s.: 0."

William Towne's residence was in that part of Salem known as the "Northfields," and he remained at this place till 1651, the year following the incorporation of the town of Topsfield, when he purchased a tract of land in the latter place of William Paine, of Ipswich, "containing forty acres of ground or thereabouts, whereof six acres is by the seller, which Wm. Howard, of Topsfield, built, and about thirty-two acres joyning up to the sayd six acres eastward of it, part of which is plow ground, another part is meadow, another part is upland unploughed, all lying together, having the meadow and the plow ground of the said Wm. Howard towards the east and the ground of Walter Roper towards the north, and a sertaine River towards the south or south-west. Also, a little piece of meddow of about two acres lying on the south side of the river, directly against the plains of the said Wm. Howard, having ye grounds of the said Wm. Howard towards ye East and the said River towards ye North and upland towards the South."

In 1652, he sold his property in Salem to Harry Bullock; in 1656, purchased additional land in Topsfield, and in 1663, "in consideration of natural affection and the contemplated marriage of their sonn, Joseph Towne, with Phebe Perkins, the dau. of Thomas Perkins," he and his wife conveyed to their said son Joseph two thirds "of the home wherein they then did dwell, with Barne, out-houses, yard, gardens, orchards, lying situate and being in Topsfield, together with a parcel of broken upland by the meddow side, only a cartway reserved between the said land and the meadow towards the South, and the land of Jacob Towne towards the East, and the land of Jacob Towne and Edmund Towne towards the North, and the lands of Isaac Estie towards the West—also, another parcell of land broke up and unbroken, containing, by estimation, thirty acres, bounded by

Simpson, Seamans, Shreve, Thornton, Thompson, Wright, Wales, and Wilson; also the name of Mathew Champion, who died October 8, 1793, aged 111 years; and the following suggestive inscription upon the tombstone of a mariner:—

"This life 's a voyage, the world 's a sea,
Where men are strangely toss'd about;
Heaven 's our port, steer thou that way,
There thou shalt anchor safe, no doubt."

the way towards the South-East and North-East, and a way also towards the South-West; the land of Zacheus Gould and Edmund Towne towards the North-West, and the land of Edmund Towne and Isaac Estie towards the North. Also, a parcell of meddow lying on the North side of the river, having the river for the bounds towards the South, a highway towards the West, and a way towards the North, and meddow of Jacob Towne towards the East, containing, by estimation, fourteen acres." All these conveyances being made with the desire that their said son, Joseph should have the first refusal of the remaining third when the same should be for sale. William Towne, the emigrant, died at Topsfield, Mass., about 1672, and from the final settlement of the estate of his widow, she seems to have survived him about ten years. She died 1682.

"Taken away from the evil to come,"

might have been the epitaph on their tombstone, in view of the terrible fate of their daughters, some ten years later.

BRIEF SKETCH OF THE SALEM WITCHCRAFT

[Copied in part from "History of Salem," by C. B. Gillespie, and from records of William H. Towne, of Milford, N. H., and Brookline, Mass.]

It seems to the compiler that a partial history of that terrible delusion known as the "Salem Witchcraft" is entitled to a small space in this book, and will be of interest to its readers, from the fact that the family of our first ancestors in this country were great sufferers from it. Salem, the place of its origin in 1692, is the second oldest town in New England and the second to become a city in Massachusetts. In its early history it was called the "City of Witches." Here more than one hundred and fifty persons (guilty of nothing save being in advance of the age in which they lived) were accused as witches, who were believed to be in league with Satan, and thrown into prison. After brief trials, twenty-seven persons suffered death by hanging on what is now known as "Gallows Hill."

But let us go back to an earlier date. There is an old Roman maxim that has been approvingly quoted through many centuries that the "voice of the people is the will of God." Is it? Let us see. It was the voice of the people which instigated and kept alive, in the fourteenth century, that "witchcraft crusade" which continued through the next three centuries and caused the death of thousands of innocent persons. This persecution was started by the most reputable citizens. Its most zealous promoters were the highly educated men of their time. In no city of Europe did the witch fires flame more fiercely than at Bonn, the mediaeval seat of art and learning. There was a general feeling at this time that in this movement the voice of the people was the voice of God, and that he himself inspired these murderous moods and frenzies. Popular superstition and ignorant fanaticism continued, with the highest intelligence and the most fervent piety, to heighten this fearful storm. Its origin in this country was in the family of the Rev. Mr. Parris, a clergyman of Salem, Mass., and it seemed likely at one time to be very destructive of human life. The first suspicion or imagination of anything unusual was in the incantations practiced by the two Indian servants of Rev. Mr. Parris, John and Tituba, in connection with the opinion of a physician that they were bewitched; and at the same time two little girls, a daughter and a niece of Mr. Parris, ten and eleven years old, began to conduct themselves (as was imagined) in a singular manner. The next question was who bewitched them. Tituba's incantations rendered her an object of suspicion; and being accused, she was scourged by her master until she acknowledged herself to be a witch.

The demon of superstition was now let loose, and accusations and commitments followed each other in quick succession till more than one hundred were in prison and in chains at one time, and room was wanted for many more. Those who confessed themselves witches remained in prison, while a special court convened to try those who maintained their integrity and declared their innocence, and among those who were brought to the bar not one escaped from the scaffold. Knowing that there was but one way of escape, confessions became numerous; and the larger the number of confessions, the greater the frenzy, till it arrived at such a point of desperation that wives testified against their husbands, children against their parents, the nearest and dearest relations in life were severed, and one minister of the gospel, the Rev. George Burroughs, was hurled into eternity through the influence of his fellow minister, and he who questioned the propriety of what was transpiring speedily prepared his neck for the gallows. Mr. Burroughs was carried through the streets in a cart to execution. When upon the scaffold, he made a speech declaring his innocence of any crime and concluded with a prayer of such seriousness and fervency of spirit and so affecting that it drew tears from many of the spectators, and it seemed at the time as though they might hinder the execution. But Cotton Mather, who was present on a horse, addressed the people, declaring that Mr. Burroughs was not an ordained minister, and that the devil had often been transformed into an angel of light; and the people were appeased and the execution went on.

Thus a delusion which common sense ought not to have heeded was warmed into life by the superstition and willful, if not malicious, ignorance of Rev. Mr. Parris, Cotton Mather, and their associates, till there was no safety in the province for the person, property, or life of the most distinguished individual; and not until it had entered their own firesides and the blaze of their own fanning was likely to consume their own families did they seem inclined to listen to reason or abate the work of judicial murder in which they had lent their influence and aid.

John Willard, who had been employed as an officer to bring in the accused, became dissatisfied with the actions of the people, declined further service, and he was thereupon accused, but made his escape to Nashua, N. H., about forty miles from Salem, where he was overtaken, returned, and executed, his trial being on the fifth of August and his execution on the nineteenth of the same month. During this excitement the wife of the Rev. Mr. Hale, the minister of Beverly, who had been engaged in promoting prosecutions, was accused, but they made their escape to New York. The wife of Philip English, the most wealthy merchant in the place, shared the fate of many others. Many of the people fled for their lives.

Among the unfortunate persons who perished in this delusion were two daughters of William Towne and Joanna Blessing, who were among the first settlers of Salem. Usually we find only the ugly, the depraved, and the vicious of the human family suspected and accused of crime; but in connection with this delusion the condition is far otherwise, and it is a pleasure and satisfaction to know that these were women of the most reputable lives and maintained their integrity to the last, going on to the scaffold with a martyr's spirit, and sufficient evidence is left on record to establish these facts beyond controversy.

The first of these sufferers to be brought before the magistrates in the meeting house, on the twenty-fourth of March, was Rebecca, the wife of Francis Nourse. Rev. Mr. Hale, the minister of Beverly, opened the court with prayer, after which the accusations were read, all of which she denied, earnestly asserting her innocence of anything wrong; but, notwithstanding, she was committed to prison, where she remained till June 30, when she was tried, convicted, and executed July 19. At this execution the Rev. Mr. Noyes tried to persuade a Mrs. Good to confess, by telling her she was a witch and that she knew it, to which she replied, "You are a liar. I am no more a witch than you are, and if you take my life God will give you blood to drink." Tradition says the curse of this poor woman was verified, and that Mr. Noyes was actually choked to death with his own blood. After the condemnation of Rebecca, the governor saw cause to grant a reprieve, which, when known to her accusers, they renewed their outcries against her insomuch that the governor was prevailed upon by Salem gentlemen (said to be a committee whose business it was to carry on prosecutions) to recall the reprieve, and she was executed with the rest.

The communion day previous to her execution, she was taken in chains to the meeting house and there formally excommunicated by her minister, Mr. Noyes. "But [says a writer] her life and conversation had been such that the remembrance thereof in a short time after wiped off all the reproach occasioned by the civil and ecclesiastical sentence against her," and in 1712 the church to which she belonged reversed its censure by blotting out the record of her excommunication, that it might not be a reproach to her memory and an occasion of grief to her children.

A historical account of her says: "The testimonials of her Christian character and behavior, both in her life and at her death, and her extraordinary care in the education of her children and in setting them good examples, were so numerous that for want of space they were omitted."

The other daughter of William Towne who suffered on the scaffold in the perilous times before referred to was Mary, the wife of Isaac Estey. She was arrested April 22, tried September 9, and executed September 22, and during the five months that she was in prison her husband came from Topsfield twice every week to render his injured but deserving companion the trifling comfort his means would allow. Before their execution both sisters sent a petition to the court. The one sent by Mary follows, which will be read with unqualified admiration by every one who has sympathy for those in trouble. A modern writer says: "Mary Esty was a woman of great strength of mind and sweetness of disposition. After her condemnation she sent a petition to the court, which, as an exhibition of the noblest fortitude, united with sweetness of temper, dignity, and resignation, as well as of calmness toward those who had selected so many from her family is rarely, if ever equaled. When it is remembered that confession of sin or crime (or whatever it may be called) was the sure and only means of obtaining favor of the court, this petition must be regarded as a most affecting appeal by an humble and feeble woman, about to lay down her life in the cause of truth and who, as a wife and mother in circumstances of terrible trial, uttered no word of complaint, but met her fate with a calmness and resignation which excites the wonder of all who read her story."

THE PETITION

To the honorable judge and bench now sitting in Salem, and the Rev. Ministers, this petition sheweth that your humble, poor petitioner, being condemned to die, doth humbly beg of you to take it into your judicious and pious consideration that your petitioner, knowing my innocence, and blessed be the Lord for it, and seeing the wiles and subtlety of my accusers, by myself cannot but judge charitably of others who are going the same way as myself, if the Lord step not mightily in. I was confined a whole month on the same account that I am now condemned, and then cleared, as your honors know, and in two days' time I was cried out upon again and have been confined, and am now condemned to die. The Lord above knows my innocence then, and likewise does now, as at the great day will be known by men and angels. I petition to your honors not for my own life, for I know I must die, and the appointed time is set, but if it be possible, that no more innocent blood be shed, which undoubtedly cannot be avoided in the way and course you go in.

I question not but your honors do to the utmost of your powers in the discovery and detection of witchcraft and witches and would not be guilty of innocent blood for the world, but by my own innocence, I know you are in the wrong way. The Lord in his infinite mercy direct you in this great work, that innocent blood be not shed. I humbly beg of your honors that you would be pleased to examine some of those afflicted persons and keep them a part sometime, and likewise try some of those confessing witches, I being confident several of them have belied themselves and others, as will appear, if not in this world, in the world to come, whither I am going, and I question not but your honors will see an alteration in these things.* They say myself and others have made a league with the devil. We cannot confess.

I know and the Lord knows, as will shortly appear, that they belie me, and I question not but they do others. The Lord above knows, who is the searcher of all hearts, as I shall answer at the tribunal seat, that I know not the least thing of witchcraft, therefore I cannot, I dare not belie my own soul. I beg your honors not to deny this my humble petition from a poor, dying, and innocent person, and I question not but the Lord will give a blessing on your endeavors.

MARY ESTEY.

The parting scene between this excellent woman and her husband, children, and friends was, as is reported by those present, as serious, religious, and affectionate as could well be witnessed, drawing tears from the eyes of all present. To complete this awful tragedy, Rev. Mr. Noyes alluded to her body in connection with others as they hung upon the gallows as "fire brands of hell."

* And they did "see an alteration in these things," and bitter were the lamentations of the community for their rashness and delusion. A righteous indignation drove Parris from their midst. Noyes asked forgiveness of all, and consecrated his life to deeds of charity and mercy, and was forgiven.

Judge Sewall and the jurors circulated declarations of regret for the part they had taken in these insane enormities. Another judge who had condemned many to be hanged acknowledged his error and guilt, and implored the pardon of God and man for his great sin. Sarah, another sister, narrowly escaped death, but records do not state how.

It must be borne in mind, in justice to most of the Salem people, that the judges who presided at the trials of the accused were acting under English rule and English laws, and that but few who took an active part in the trials were Salem people.

It is not generally known that a monument to the memory of these two unfortunate women has been erected and dedicated near their old homestead. It is eleven feet high and cut from Rockport and Quincy granite, and finely lettered and polished.

- } All d. in infancy.

* In this connection I quote the words of E. H. in the "Towne Memorial": "It is believed that very few of the present generation have any adequate idea of the terrible nature of the struggles that our ancestors were engaged in at this time, for their very existence, as well as for their homes, with all that the word home implies. There can be no doubt that it was the most severe and bloody war that this country was ever engaged in, taking into consideration the destruction of life and property in proportion to what was exposed to its ravages. Although it lasted but about one year, yet more than six hundred men, women, and children fell victims to the bullet, tomahawk, and scalping knife of the savage foe. More than eighteen towns and villages were either entirely or partially destroyed and abandoned. More than six hundred families were burned out, and so great was the suffering and destitution that subscriptions were taken up in many places for their relief. Very few of those in this country, who have, not many years since, so nobly and generously contributed to the relief of the suffering in Ireland, knew that they were repaying an obligation more than two hundred years old. Yet it is a matter of history that on the seventh of August, 1676, a vessel sailed from Ireland, laden with provisions to the amount of several thousand dollars, for the relief destitute in the colonies of Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island. Verily of the Lord is true and sure: 'Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days.'"

H., March 8, 1769, who d. May 13, 1787; third, Keziah Start, wid. of William Start, March 20, 1788. He resided in New Ipswich in 1763. He marched from New Ipswich before daylight on the morning of the twentieth of April, 1775, on the alarm of the battle at Concord, taking with him his son Ezra, then only sixteen years of age. He entered service April 23, 1775, as captain of a company in Colonel Reed's New Hampshire regiment, which was quartered June 13, 1775, at Charlestown Neck. His company fought at the "Rail Fence," June 17, stubbornly holding the British in check and covering the retreat of Colonel Prescott's men.

The next year he went, at the head of his company, to Canada, sharing the hardships of Montgomery's famous campaign; thence to Albany, whence, in December, 1776, his company marched to Pennsylvania, campaigning there till January, 1777, and until Burgoyne's surrender. His company was discharged at Morristown, February 13, 1777. In 1785 he was appointed major of a New Hampshire regiment and rose to the position of colonel, which he held at the time of his death, December 25, 1795.

His death was accidental, being caused by sliding from his hayloft upon one of the old-fashioned "hay hooks" used in those days, which entered his body, and from which injury he died in a few hours. He was buried with military honors.

The hook, with a label attached telling the sad story, still (1880) hangs in the house where he lived and died. Their children:

Jacob was with Stark's Rangers in the French and Indian War, and when the assault was made on "Old Fort Ticonderoga," July 8, 1758, he fell so badly wounded that a comrade, at the risk of his own life, pulled a brushy tree-top over him, taken from the abattis which defended the fort, and thus saved him from being scalped by the Indians, who were coming out of the fort to scalp the dead and dying who were left behind in the retreat. Some four days afterward, during an armistice for the burial of the dead, he was found still alive under the tree-top and was conveyed back out of the wilderness, and finally recovered. Col. F. L. Towne, of Lancaster, N. H., now well remembers hearing his grandfather relate this story when he was a boy.

“Joseph⁵ at his death left five sons, who chose the cultivation of the soil as their pursuit in life, each purchasing a tract of land adjoining the other. (Their father owned several hundred acres.) Here they resided side by side until the youngest was sixty-nine and the oldest eighty-one, when one of their number was removed by death.”

This was written by William B. Towne in 1846, and at that time it was both interesting and instructive to look upon the remaining four in their declining years. Industry and economy had enabled them to lay up in store an ample supply for the autumn of life. Virtuous frugality had preserved them from the effeminacy of luxury; and having observed the early promulgated law of our being, that “by the sweat of thy brow thou shalt eat bread,” the infirmities of old age had not been permitted to come near their dwellings. Threescore years and ten found them in the possession of vigorous intellects, and at fourscore and upwards the natural force of the oldest seemed scarcely to be abated.

REV. SALEM⁶ TOWNE, LL.D. (*Israel*⁵, *Israel*⁴, *John*³, *Jacob*², *William*¹). b. at Belchertown, March 5, 1779. m. Abigail King, March 26, 1807, who was b. October 12, 1781, and d. when visiting a dau. at Gallipolis, Ohio, December 7, 1840. They lived at Granville, N. Y., until 1829, and then removed to Aurora, N. Y. Children all borne at Granville.

Mr. Towne received a classical education, and obtained at college the degree of M.A., and later in life that of LL.D. For some years he was principal of an academy. He had more than ordinary abilities as a writer, mostly on educational subjects. Mackey's "Lexicon of Freemasonry" says of him: "He was ardently attached to Freemasonry, and was for many years Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter, and Grand Prelate of the Grand Commandery of New York.
 In 1818 he published a work entitled 'A System of Speculative Masonry.' This work contains many suggestive and valuable thoughts.
 Brother Towne was highly respected for his many virtues, the consistency of his life, and his unwearied devotion to the Masonic order." He was the author of "Towne's Speller" and "Towne's Analysis," two of the first works of the kind ever printed in the English language, and, in the opinion of many, two of the best. He d. at Greencastle, Ind., February 24, 1864, aged eighty-five. Their children :

JOHN⁷ TOWNE (*Benjamin*⁶, *Nathan*⁵, *Nathan*⁴, *Joseph*³, *Edmund*², *William*¹). b. at Methuen, April 30, 1787. m. Sarah Robinson, of Coventry, England. He d. July 24, 1851, and was buried in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia. This Mr. Towne was in many ways a remarkable man. He had great perseverance and energy, combined with rare ingenuity, refined tastes, and a brilliant intellect. He went from home early to seek a fortune, and he succeeded. He gave instruction in penmanship in various places, and at last reached Baltimore, and made the acquaintance of Henry Robinson, of England. After a few years in business together, Mr. Towne and wife went to Pittsburg, where he built a commodious house and bought land and laid out a large fruit farm. He also engaged in what was known as "steamboating," having several boats running on the Mississippi to New Orleans. He also engaged in sugar and cotton trade at Mobile and New Orleans. His wife during the time superintended the affairs at home on the farm. In 1833 he accepted the offer of superintendent of the Gas Works in Boston, which were then owned by his former partner, Henry Robinson. He lived in Boston till 1840, having become a very wealthy man. He then purchased a house in Philadelphia, which he furnished with fine taste and elegance. In 1849 he purchased a country seat near Philadelphia and removed thither. Here he was able to enjoy his love of country life, of which he had for years been deprived. But his health soon began to fail, and he d. July 24, 1851. His death was deeply regretted by his many friends wherever he had lived. Their children :

ISRAEL⁷ TOWNE (*Joseph*⁶, *Israel*⁵, *Israel*⁴, *John*³, *Jacob*², *William*¹). b. at Granville, N. Y., May 5, 1791. m. Lucy White. He

*In connection with Susan Cole Towne's family I deviate from the plan of the book, but I trust I shall be pardoned. She was a woman of more than ordinary powers. Her husband's ancestors were French Protestants, who fled to this country about 1650 to escape from the religious persecution in France, where at that time to be known as a Protestant or a Christian meant death. His family settled in Pennsylvania about 1820, and have always been prominent socially and politically. George B. Delamater graduated, studied law, and became eminent in the profession. He was state senator several terms, president and trustee of Oberlin and Allegheny colleges, a director in several banks and railroads, and he says that the wisdom and executive ability of his wife have been a great aid to him in his great business enterprises. Their three sons follow in the footsteps of their father; graduates of colleges, have held the offices of mayor, state senators, cashiers of banks, treasurers of railroads, and managers of large business interests. All Republicans. One was defeated in the race for the governorship by the Quay crowd only by a few votes.

This family of five brothers is distinguished and known as the "Towne Family of Railway Men," all of them having engaged in that service while they were quite young.

Their successful career has become a matter of history, as published in the "Biographical Directory of Railway Officials of America," by the Railway Age Publishing Company, of Chicago, Ill. Also a biographical sketch of the life of Alban Nelson may be found in the "Contemporary Biography of California's Representative Men." A sketch of Lewis Willard's life is published in "The United States Biographical Dictionary," Kansas Volume, 1879.

Reference to other members of the family is contained in the "Towne Family Memorial," compiled by Edwin Hubbard, of Chicago, Ill.

Brief biographical sketches of these five brothers will be found in their proper place among others of the eighth generation, with a portrait of each.

The district school and New Salem Academy gave him his education. He taught school a few terms in winter to enable him to continue at the academy. At twenty-one was loaned a little money to enter into the mercantile business at Warren with a cousin, Daniel Russell. Continued there ten years, buying out his partner's interest after five years. Then removed to Monson in 1862, and continued in the same business till 1874. During this period he was elected town clerk for several years until his removal to Springfield. He was also clerk of the Congregational parish and postmaster during General Grant's terms, and until his resignation on removing to Springfield. In Springfield he engaged in the wholesale tobacco and cigar manufacturing business with Charles Fuller and Henry Huck, doing a large business and employing one hundred and fifty persons. At this time he had made money enough, but through unfortunate investments reverses came, and it took to itself wings and left him where he began life at twenty-one. He early joined the Masons, and took an active part in their councils for many years ; became a thirty-second degree Mason in 1863 ; is a past master of two different lodges. m. Emily M. Mer-

792 ii. CHARLES E. b. August 29, 1845.

793 iii. ARTHUR F. b. March 25, 1854.

William Bradford ⁷ Towne began life in very much the same manner as many of our most successful men have done. He attended school when five years of age, and when old enough to assist on the farm he did so in summer and attended school again in winter. At the early age of sixteen he left home to take care of himself. This he found no easy task, but refused to receive help from home. At nineteen he entered a dry goods and grocery store, and continued in that employment in different places for several years.

He joined the Congregational Church in Concord in 1832. He took a decided stand on the temperance question, refusing to work for any firm that would keep liquors for sale. He also was much interested in the anti-slavery cause, which was beginning to agitate the community. He held many offices of trust in New Hampshire and Massachusetts. He was a representative in the New Hampshire legislature two years, was a director in a national bank at Milford, and was also chosen its president.

The New England Historical and Genealogical Society was formed about 1839, and he became a member September 15, 1852, and was a director and treasurer from 1861 to 1871. He was the founder of the "Towne Memorial Fund," and gave the first thousand dollars to establish it, January 1, 1864, the income from which is to be used for the publication of memoirs of deceased members. In 1870 he gave one thousand dollars more for the same purpose. In 1872 the fund was $2,861. It is kept separate from other funds of the society. Mr. Towne was for many years a member of the great dry goods firm in Boston of James M. Beebe & Co. He had the entire charge of the various securities owned and held by the firm, much real estate also, all of which required great skill and good judgment and care. He had great executive ability, and was noted for his successful adjustment of complicated accounts. He was also corresponding secretary of New York Historical Society, the Pennsylvania Historical Society, and State Historical Society of Wisconsin. He delivered the address at the one hundredth anniversary of the dedication of the Congregational Church at Amherst, N. H., January 19, 1874. In 1866 he made a tour of Europe, and it was during his visit to England, in the land of his ancestors, that he obtained the history which is to be found in the beginning of this volume. He was the first to make any research into the history and genealogy of the Townes in this country or in England.

John Henry⁸, the eldest son of John Towne, laid the foundation of his great fortune in the establishment of Merrick & Towne. After that copartnership was dissolved in 1848, he engaged in several enterprises, the erection of gas works at New Bedford and Savannah being among the number. Before the breaking out of the Civil War he entered the firm of J. P. Morris & Co., of Philadelphia, which was then changed to J. P. Morris, Towne & Co. Many of the largest engines for war vessels and monitors, and much other machinery, were made in their establishment. He was warmly enlisted in this great struggle to preserve our Union, and did all in his power to aid the Government, offering his gratuitous services in any capacity where he could be made useful.

He was a man of marked talent and inventive turn of mind, which enabled him to improve in whatever he engaged. His refined tastes were inherited from his father, and they were shown in his great love for the fine arts, and in music, of which he was especially fond. He was a member of the Franklin Institute Philosophic Society and other scientific associations, but his greatest interest was in the reconstruction and advancement of the University of Pennsylvania. For this he gave much time and much efficient service.

In the spring of 1874, he experienced a slight shock of paralysis, and by advice of physicians was sent abroad, accompanied by his wife and daughter. They traveled through Switzerland during the autumn, and spent the winter in Paris. On April 7, 1875, he died suddenly from the effect of another shock in connection with some heart trouble. After amply providing for his own family, and leaving handsome bequests to his brother and sisters, the remainder of his large fortune was bestowed on the University of Pennsylvania. The "Towne Scientific School" was named in his honor.

Rev. Charles A. Towne, son of Amos P. and Mehitable P. Towne, was born at South Danvers (now Peabody), June 8, 1842, and attended the primary, grammar, and high schools of his native town until thirteen years of age. He then served as clerk in a hardware store, and next as bookkeeper for a shoe manufacturer until August 21, 1862, when, with the written consent of his parents, he enlisted in Company C, Fifth Massachusetts Regiment of Volunteers, for nine months' service. February 9, 1863, he received an honorable discharge on surgeon's certificate of disability. A few months later he went to Evansville, Ind., where he remained a year at service, then going to Cincinnati, Ohio, to enter the employ of A. Simpkinson & Co., wholesale boot and shoe dealers, as shipping clerk. On May 2, 1864, he enlisted in Company A, One Hundred and Thirty-Seventh Ohio National Guards, for one hundred days' service. This regiment was ordered to Forts McHenry and Marshall, Maryland, and at the expiration of its term of service Mr. Towne was honorably discharged, August 19, 1864. Resuming his services as clerk in Cincinnati, he remained until September, 1867, when he entered upon a full course of study for the ministry at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, and Madison University, Hamilton, N. Y., being graduated in the A.B. course in June, 1873. Continuing his studies at Hamilton, he entered the theological seminary of the university, and was graduated therefrom in June, 1875, with the degree of A.M. In August, 1875, Mr. Towne received a hearty call to the pastorate of the Franklin Street Baptist Church, Dover, N. H., and, accepting it, was ordained September 30, 1875. After serving this church until May, 1881, he received a call from the Central Baptist Church, Salem, Mass., and served that church until June, 1890. On June 8, 1890, he entered upon the pastorate of the Court Street Baptist Church, Auburn, Me., serving that people until December 1, 1897, when he began his service as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Gardner, Mass., where he still continues in that relation. Each of these pastorates has been marked with a high degree of success. During his college training Mr. Towne wrote a prize essay, was editor of two college papers, and since entering the ministry has served as chaplain of Post 34, G. A. R., Salem, Mass., and also chaplain of the Salem House of Correction; also for some five years was a member of the Executive Committee of the Maine Baptist Missionary Convention, when a resident of Maine, and had the honor also of serving as the first State Councilor of the Maine State Council of Order of United American Mechanics, 1895 to 1896.

881 i. FREDERICK M. T. b. March 28, 1854.

ii. FLORENCE E. TENNEY. b. May 18, 1859. unm., 1900.

Mr. Orange C. Towne, an enterprising and prosperous agriculturist, living in the town of Chicopee, was a son of Jonathan and Delia (Rumrill) Towne, and at the age of three years was adopted by Orange Chapin, deacon of the Congregational Church in Chicopee, which was then a part of Springfield. He attended the public schools and assisted in the work of the farm. At the time of his marriage he was given the position of station agent at Willimansett, which position he acceptably filled for a period of ten years, when he returned to the farm, succeeding Deacon Chapin in its ownership. Here he found both pleasure and profit in his labors. This farm is situated directly across the river from Holyoke, and at the time of his earliest recollections there was no dam across the river, and upon the site of the present city there were but three or four farmhouses and but one small cotton factory. There were no side tracks, and whenever cotton was received or goods shipped, a car would be pushed across the river. Thus it will be seen that Mr. Towne has witnessed the entire growth and development of the city of Holyoke. His wife, Miss Eugenia Sophia Tenney, was b. at Gill, and was the dau. of Capt. John A. and Nancy Lyons Tenney. Their dau. Florence is very actively engaged in temperance work. Mr. and Mrs. Towne are true representatives of early colonial families, and are eligible to membership in any of the societies composed of lineal descendants of the Revolutionary patriots.

Rev. Salem Darius Towne, son of Abner F. and Amanda C. Towne, was born at Clarksburg, Mass., May 9, 1857. At the age of eleven he removed to Williamstown, Mass.; was educated there and in the schools of Bennington, Vt. At the age of nineteen he began teaching school; taught various schools in Vermont. He served one term as registrar of the Probate Court of Bennington County. Afterward he was book-keeper and paymaster in the Bennington Woolen Mills.

In 1882 he went to Bangor, Me., and entered the Theological Seminary; graduated in 1885. During his seminary course he supplied the pulpit of several churches, and in 1885 he was ordained and installed pastor of the Congregational Church at Ellsworth Falls, Me. In 1887 he was called to the pastorate of the Congregational Church at Hampden, Me., and three years later he was invited to become general missionary for the Maine Missionary Society. He served in this capacity for several years, and then served as pastor for two years at Oldtown, Me.

In 1889 he established The Word and the Work, a religious paper in the interests of the Congregational denomination for Maine, and was its editor and publisher until October, 1900. In 1895 he published a "Wedding Souvenir," which met with special favor so that he has since published five editions. He has also brought out several other publications for pastors, so that he has found it necessary to give his entire time to his published works, which are issued by the Ingraham Printing and Publishing Company, at Williamstown, Mass. Mr. Towne's present address is at Williamstown, Mass.

Rev. Henry W. Conley, of Stonington, Me., who entered the ministry from the Ellsworth Falls Church, and who has known Mr. Towne and his work intimately, writes as follows:—

“A very close acquaintance with Rev. S. D. Towne for more than fifteen years, during which I have known him as preacher, pastor, evangelist, publisher, man, and friend, has disclosed abilities and qualities of marked character.

“His preaching was evangelical in thought, convincing, conscience-moving, and practical. He always exalted the Word and honored the Holy Spirit. As a pastor he was sympathetic and faithful, losing no opportunity to keep well before his people in his personal talk with them their obligation and privilege to let Christ into their lives. There are many persons whose changed lives are eloquent witnesses of his kind but unyielding persistence in urging them to the great decision.

“In his work as an evangelist he was wise in method, tender in appeal, and eminently successful. His labors were permanently beneficial. He conducted revivals in many of our churches. In no case was there failure, and in nearly all cases large numbers were won to Christ. Every church he visited was quickened and enlarged.

“The establishment of The Word and the Work is an enterprise that is a monument to the courageous faith of its founder. This journal of Congregational news and of the saving Gospel has gone into hundreds of homes in this State, bearing its message to hearts that would far less often, if ever, have learned it.

“As a man, Mr. Towne possessed those qualities that men admire,—honesty, sobriety, sociability, loyalty to principle, strength of conviction, persistency in endeavor, charity. As a friend he was a friend indeed, sticking closer than a brother.

“He has made a indelible impression upon our State. In the pastorate, in the evangelistic field, in the chair of the editor, he has exerted strong influence. The kingdom of our Lord is larger and deeper because of his labors among us. Hundreds of friends regret his withdrawal from the State, but rejoice that he lived and labored among them, and send their Godspeed after him.”

The subject of this brief sketch, Benjamin F. Towne, was born at Winslow, Me., on the home farm owned by several generations. He received an education in the English branches such as a district school can give. Being the youngest son, it fell to him to help his parents on the farm until of age. At twenty-one he entered the employ of the Maine Central Railroad, where he remained for five years. In 1876, he returned to take entire charge of the large farm, and replaced the old buildings with entirely new ones and with all improvements for a farmer. In the meantime he has made the farm more than double its value. He owns and runs an extensive milk route through the city of Waterville, Me., which has been the means of increasing his bank account very much. During the last five years he has given much attention to real estate in Waterville, where he has some large and profitable investments. He is a man of quick and keen perception, and has the confidence of all. He has held various public offices for many years.

ALBAN NELSON⁸ TOWNE (*Nelson P.*⁷, *Joel*⁶, *Simon*⁵, *John*⁴, *John*³, *Jacob*², *William*¹) was born at Dresser Hill, Worcester County, Mass., on the twenty-sixth day of May, 1829, the month and year made notable by the arrival of the first locomotive on this continent. His father was Nelson Parker Towne, and his mother Julia A. Dresser, who were married September 10, 1828. There was a peculiar and striking fitness in the coincidence of the birth of one who was destined to control and influence, in a very great degree, the utility of the new power, and the introduction of the locomotive itself. On the early death of his father, leaving a large family of children of tender years, Alban, in common with his brothers who were old enough to work, deeply felt the importance of putting forth every possible effort to assist the mother and those dependent upon her care. Inspired by a profound and uninterrupted affection for his mother and her desire to see her son succeed, together with the importance of establishing a reputation of the highest character, he passed in rapid succession from honor to honor, attaining by energy of will, integrity of purpose, and years of patient labor an almost unparalleled eminence in his chosen profession. Personal magnetism, executive ability of a rare order, a conciliatory spirit, and good address were the characteristics which eminently fitted Mr. Towne for success of the highest order. Reared a farmer, mechanically inclined, and trained a merchant, he possessed, when he entered the difficult field of railroading, a knowledge of men and business beyond his years.

In 1856, Mr. Towne was brakeman upon a freight train upon the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad ; on April 9, 1890, he became second vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific, the greatest of transcontinental railroads, with flattering offers from three of the leading roads of the United States to stand at their head, the highest testimonial to his mastery of the transportation problem, one of the most intricate studies of the age.

His connection with the Southern Pacific Company continued until his death, July 16, 1895, during which time he won and retained the implicit confidence and respect of all of its officials.

Mr. Towne was married on September 25, 1850, to Miss Caroline Amelia Mansfield, daughter of Asahel Mansfield, of Webster, Mass., whose family name appears conspicuously among the early settlers of New England. Mrs. Towne passed with him through all his vicissitudes, and bore in her sphere the woman's full share of her husband's trials ; and as in the case of pure metal, the severer the test, the brighter it shines, so has her character been demonstrated.

Mr. Towne was a man of wide and varied culture, endowed with talents which enable men to dominate in those things in which the world is ambitious to control, — wealth, position, influence. The strain that he was under for years, consequent upon great labor, responsibilities, and cares of office, severely taxed his nervous organization. Keyed up to the highest tension, he scarcely ever allowed himself relaxation. Those who held his health and welfare near at heart insisted on rest. “Not now,” he answered, “we will have it by and by. After physical existence, all eternity for rest.”

Stupendous exertion and unremitting loyalty to his work and profession stopped the busy shuttle of his life, bequeathing as a heritage to his family so excellent a thing as a good name and a loving memory, and to the world that marvelously wrought garment that men call success.

It is impossible, in this brief sketch, to do full justice to the achievements and usefulness of a life gradually but unerringly lifted from obscurity to transplendent success and prominence. The lesson here involved is sufficient, however, to place upon the hilltops of labor, as one of the beacons to the youths of the present day, warning and encouraging every young heart aspiring after the strength and beauty of a perfect manhood.

The following is from the Railway Age, July 19, 1895: —

“The sudden death of A. N. Towne, second vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific Company, has taken from the midst of his labors one of the ablest and most successful railway managers of the country and world. Mr. Towne’s career is a remarkable example of a steady climb from the lowest to the highest round of the ladder, accomplished solely by inherent ability and indomitable work; it is further notable from the fact that it was made in the service of two companies, — with the Burlington for some fourteen years and with the Central & Southern Pacific for twenty-six years, — showing that his value was unquestioned and his position secure. It was notable, too, because it was a continuous service, almost without a day’s rest, for forty years, ended suddenly by death in the harness, in full possession of the powers and in full sway of the authority for which he had so long demonstrated his peculiar faculty. A life of variable success, now climbing up and now slipping back, or a life of successful ascent followed by gradual weakening of physical and mental strength, laid aside on the shelf to make room for younger men, or perhaps holding a nominal position with the consciousness that he can no longer meet its requirements or exercise its prerogatives, — this is the sad close of many careers. But Mr. Towne rose steadily, held each height gained, and at the summit closed his eyes in his full strength, in the height of his fame and powers. An ending like this most men would desire. The generation of such railway managers as Mr. Towne is nearly ended. Railway systems and methods have become too vast and complex for one man to combine in himself all knowledge and authority. Mr. Towne's characteristic was largely the determination to know all about every department of his road and to have his hand on all the strings. In time this became impossible; but while he yielded reluctantly to the necessity of delegating authority, he remained in spirit the masterful, indomitable, all-seeing head of operations of a vast system of transportation, and died without the consciousness of surrender."

MOSES DRESSER⁸ TOWNE (Nelson P.⁷, Joel⁶, Simon⁵, John⁴, John³, Jacob², William¹). b. at Charlton, August 15, 1831. Went to Chicago and entered railway service, May, 1861; to winter, 1864, locomotive fireman and dispatcher; 1864 to 1872, locomotive engineer; 1872 to 1879, successively, foreman roundhouse and engines, yard master and train master, all on Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad.

In these various positions he was occupied for more than twenty years, accomplishing well and to the entire satisfaction of his employers all the duties assigned to him. Chiefly on account of the ill health of his wife, to whom he was devoted, and for the purpose of being more regularly at home, he retired from railway service in 1879 to engage in the railway freight transfer business at Quincy, Ill., in which capacity he still remains. At the time he retired he was in direct line of promotion, and would doubtless have reached the highest position in the operating department had he continued in railway work.

Mr. Towne was reared upon a farm, always loved the freedom of rural life, and never ceased to long for farm occupation in preference to any other. That he would have succeeded there can be no doubt, but circumstances which he could not control carried him adrift in another direction, and the fond hopes of his lifelong ambition were never realized. He is very fond of the rod and gun, and takes great pleasure in the ever-relaxing recreation afforded in such sport.

Mr. Towne is possessed of many rare characteristics for which the world would be better if more were like him. He has the happy faculty of seeing the bright side of life, and making the most of it by his own cheerful and buoyant disposition. His personal reputation is of the highest character, and he is honored and respected by all who know him.

LEWIS WILLARD⁸ TOWNE (Nelson P.⁷, Joel⁶, Simon⁵, John⁴, John³, Jacob², William¹). b. at Charlton, September 4, 1833. In common with his brothers, he was reared on a farm. At an early age he displayed a mechanical turn of mind, and was permitted to learn the trade of a machinist.

Having completed his trade, he worked one year as a journeyman, after which time he went to Charleston, S. C., and entered the shops of the South Carolina Railway Company.

In 1852, he became a locomotive engineer, an occupation which he pursued until 1855, when he left South Carolina and went to Galesburg, Ill., where he obtained a situation as engineer on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, and continued in this capacity until 1858. From 1858 to 1861, foreman Quincy shops, and 1861 to 1865, master mechanic Quincy Division of same road; 1865 to 1869, superintendent of machinery, Hannibal & St. Joseph Railway; 1869 to 1873, assistant general superintendent; 1873 to 1875, general superintendent, same road; 1875 to 1880, general superintendent, Atchison & Nebraska Railway; 1880 to 1882, general superintendent, Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis Railway; general superintendent, Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham Railroad and Kansas City, Clinton & Springfield Railway, which latter positions he held until he died, May 14, 1892.

But it is not alone as a thorough and competent railroad manager that he is to be remembered. In the multiplicity of his business engagements he found time to make himself a farmer and stock-raiser, and owned a fine body of land near Clarence, Shelby County, Mo., which he cultivated with great success. The farm (known as Highland Stock Farm) embraced many hundred acres of land, between six and seven hundred of which were enclosed and in a high state of cultivation.

He bestowed on this place a large amount of care and expense, and was rewarded in rich returns. As a breeder of thoroughbred short-horn cattle, few were more successful. A sale of his stock, which was held in Dexter Park, Chicago, May 19, 1875, ranked as the third best sale ever made in the United States. Thirty-nine head of short-horn cattle were sold at public auction for $22,400, or an average of a fraction over $574 per head.

Mr. Towne was a man of excellent character, energetic and prompt in the discharge of every duty. Perseverance was one of his most striking characteristics, and he made himself thoroughly acquainted with all details of his business. His power of analysis by reason of his acute perceptive faculties enabled him to see and to do things quickly; and while engaged in business, his whole time and energy were directed to the skillful execution of his work.

HORACE ALONZO⁸ TOWNE (*Nelson P.*⁷, *Joel*⁶, *Simon*⁵, *John*⁴, *John*³, *Jacob*², *William*¹). b. at Charlton, July 12, 1835. Very early in life Mr. Towne possessed superior mechanical skill, which served him well in his chosen profession. He also developed marked executive ability, and not only succeeded in the various branches of railway management, but also in business affairs as well.

He entered railway service October, 1854; to June, 1855, fireman, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad; June, 1855, to 1858, apprentice machinist in shops, same road, Galesburg, Ill.; 1858 to 1864, locomotive engineer, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Chicago & Northwestern railroads; 1864 to 1867, successively foreman shops, Illinois Central Railway, Centralia, and Hannibal & St. Joseph Railway, Hannibal, Mo.; 1867 to August, 1873, successively master mechanic, Central Branch Union Pacific (now a part of the Missouri Pacific System), master mechanic, Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis Railway, and superintendent machinery, Hannibal & St. Joseph Railway; August, 1873, to 1875, superintendent motive power, machinery, and rolling stock, Northern Pacific Railway and leased lines; 1875 to December, 1882, superintendent entire line, same road.

After the Jay Cook failure and at the time of the reorganization of the Northern Pacific Railway Company in 1875, Mr. Towne succeeded General Manager C. W. Mead in the management of the operating department of that road. His incessant work and arduous duties, which did not afford recreation, told so heavily upon him that his health began to fail, and he found it expedient to resign in December, 1882. After a brief rest, he was persuaded to take charge of and reorganize the machinery department of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway.

Finally, in 1884, he retired, to take personal supervision of his own affairs. His reputation, however, did not retire with him, as he afterwards had tempting offers to reënter the railway field and take the management of the machinery department of a leading transcontinental railway. He was also asked to take charge of two divisions, with the promise of promotion to the position of general superintendent of another transcontinental line. All these flattering inducements he declined, believing the time had arrived when great responsibilities should be avoided in order to enable him to pass the remaining years of his life in comparative retirement. Yet in the management of his personal affairs, and in the discharge of his duty to others, he keeps himself constantly employed, for he enjoys himself most when engaged in something worth doing. As a citizen, he is regarded as one among the most reliable and trustworthy, always ready to share with others the responsibilities of the community in which he lives. Among other duties in this direction, he is an active member of the Minneapolis Board of Trade, elected a director in 1885, and recently served as vice-president of that body for two terms. Mr. Towne is a gentleman of refined manners, unassuming, yet frank, in all his dealings. He possesses in a large degree that rare quality of being able to say either Yes or No in such a manner as to give offense to few, and to convey the impression that the desired favor is granted or withheld from the kindest and best of motives.

Chicago in 1862, when about eighteen years of age, and, having learned the telegraph business, entered the service of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad; in August of the same year was promoted, and located at Aurora, Ill. In the spring of the next year he accepted an offer from the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, and located at Sterling, Ill. From there he was transferred to act as train dispatcher for the superintendent of the Wisconsin Division of the same road; then to the office of the superintendent of the Galena Division. In 1867 he was sent to Boone, Iowa, as train dispatcher of Western Iowa Division. In 1872 he accepted the appointment of assistant superintendent of the Atchison & Nebraska Railway, then completed from Atchison, Kan., to Lincoln, Neb.; and two weeks after, when the general superintendent was killed by an accident on the line, the management of the whole road was placed in the hands of Mr. Towne, and its duties discharged by him satisfactorily until May, 1873, when he received a call from the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway to act as superintendent of the Missouri Division. Subsequently all the other divisions were placed under his care.

In 1874 he left the railway service and became proprietor of Ayers Hotel and railway restaurant, at Harvard, Ill. Subsequently he accepted the position of manager of all the railway eating-houses on the Union Pacific System, with headquarters at Laromie, Albany County, Wyoming.

During this time (1884) he became quite active in political matters as a staunch Republican, and was duly elected representative to the State legislature, serving one term with distinction and honor.

He afterwards returned to his home at Harvard, and died after a long, painful illness. He was active, energetic, full of personal magnetism, very popular, and successful in business affairs.

Paul Allen Towne, A.M., son of Elijah and Louisa Towne (née Felton), was born at Hardwick, December 8, 1823. His early school years were passed in the Hardwick Centre school and in the high school of John Goldsbury. In 1841 he removed with the family to Earlville, N. Y. In 1842 he conducted a private high school in Hamilton Centre, and transferred it to Earlville the next year. Closing this school, he entered the freshman class of Hamilton College, but before the close of the first term the trustees of the Clinton Liberal Institute elected him as the professor of mathematics and chemistry. At the close of his fourth term he determined to become a regular college graduate, and entered the freshman class of Harvard University. But before the close of the year a committee of three came to Cambridge and urged him to return to the Institute in Clinton. This ended his collegiate education. He remained in the Institute until 1853. From 1855 to 1857 he was principal of the academy in Cahaba, Ala. In 1858 he was elected principal of the Barton Academy, Mobile, Ala. Before leaving Cahaba he was admitted to the bar by the Supreme Court of Alabama. But the call to Mobile and, subsequently, the war prevented his becoming a lawyer. During the four years of the war he was an instructor in the Pinny and Towle College, Mobile.

In 1865 he visited Louisville, Ky., and arranged for the publication of his "Series of Arithmetics and Algebra," by the firm of John P. Morton & Company. Four years were passed in placing the Morton publications in Southern schools. In 1869 he removed to Buffalo, N. Y., and there prepared the dictionary catalogue of the city library. Recalled to Kentucky by his publishers, Paris was selected as the home of the family. During the next three or four years he was engaged in conducting teachers' institutes in each of the congressional districts of the State. In 1873 he was elected librarian of the public library of Kentucky, and held the position until 1880; in this last year he edited and published the Louisville Monthly Magazine. Soon after, he removed with his family to New York, and became assistant editor of the American Sentry and contributor to The Earth and other publications; also a reviser of books previous to their publication.

In 1892 he removed from New York to West Edmeston, N. Y., where he now lives with his wife and two daughters.

See Report of the Eighty-seventh Commencement of Hamilton College, published for the alumni by the board of trustees, June 25, 1899.

Rev. Charles H. Towne, the subject of this sketch, was born at Wheaton, Wis., November 16, 1859, where his father's family settled about 1857. The educational facilities of the town were at first very poor, but a schoolhouse was built, and very soon its school stood among the best. It was here he attended school until nearly twenty years old, when he went to Eau Claire, Wis., and for three years attended the high school and Methodist seminary. After the third year he engaged as a commercial salesman for several years. Mr. Towne had a very strong religious nature, was converted at fourteen, and the conviction became strong that he ought to spend his life as a minister of the gospel. At length strong influence was brought to bear upon him, and he finally accepted a call as general secretary in the Young Men's Christian Association, in which for years he had been an active member and worker. He was sent to Black River Falls, Wis., the home of Congressman William T. Price, who was one of the promoters and active supporters of the organization, and for about two years he carried on a very active and successful work. His taste for a commercial life then overcame him, and, like Peter, he went back to his old employment as a commercial traveler. In February, 1889, he accepted a position with D. S. Johnston & Company, of Tacoma, Wash., and was soon raised to the responsible position of general agent for the firm, which position he held until the panic of 1893. During the next two years he spent almost the whole time in a systematic study of the Scriptures, and in 1895 was called to the work of the ministry in the West Wisconsin Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

His previous work in the Young Men's Christian Association and along evangelistic lines now came into play; and, filled with an overwhelming conviction that all these years God had been calling and fitting him, he put the same zeal and energy into his now chosen profession that in the years of the past he had into business.

Mr. Towne is well liked where he has served as a pastor; his work has given the best of satisfaction. He is a student and an original thinker, as a speaker is pleasing and forceful, and, above all things, is filled with a consuming desire to go where God wants him.

James Weld Towne was born at Amherst, N. H., May 29, 1829, and passed his boyhood at that place and the adjoining town of Milford.

He learned the printing business under apprenticeship to the Farmers' Cabinet of Amherst, after which he became a journeyman printer in Boston for a short time. The opening up of the Pacific coast, incident to the discovery of gold in California, led to his going there in 1852 to take up printing in the new city of San Francisco.

A few years later he came East and married Cynthia Gowing, daughter of Joseph Gowing, of Amherst, and they immediately returned to San Francisco, where they resided for thirteen years. During this time Mr. Towne followed the printing business very successfully, being with the pioneer firm of Whiton, Towne & Company, and later with Towne & Bacon.

Since 1868, when Mr. Towne's health necessitated his coming East, he has resided in East Orange, N. J., and acted as New York partner of the paper house of Blake, Moffitt & Towne, of San Francisco.

Mrs. Towne died at East Orange, July, 1875, and in October, 1877, Mr. Towne married Rebecca Eames, of Wilmington, Mass.

He had nine children by his first wife, of whom six, four sons and two daughters are living at this time (1900). They are, in order of age, Arthur G. Towne, living in San Francisco ; Mrs. Hugo Richards, living in Prescott, Ariz. ; Mrs. Frank W. Wilson, living in East

The family of Towne from which descended Edward Owings Towne, of Chicago, traces its ancestry in England to the time of the Conqueror. The first of the name in America was William Towne, who landed at Salem, Mass., in 1630, and settled there. Mr. Towne's father was a native of Pennsylvania, and his grandfather of Massachusetts. His father studied theology, and became minister of the Baptist Church. In 1854 he went West and located near Pella, Iowa, in a village called the "Wooden Shoe Town." In this town of unromantic name Edward Owings Towne, the future lawyer, author, and playwright, was born. His father founded the Iowa Central University, where the son afterward received his collegiate education.

After his graduation he came to Chicago to study law. At twenty-one he was admitted to the bar.

He distinguished himself at the Chicago bar in a number of famous cases, notably in the celebrated Deb's Conspiracy case.

As a playwright Mr. Towne has gained merited celebrity. He first achieved a wide reputation both in this country and in Europe as a wit, by the publication of a book of "Aphorisms." His next volume, "The Completion of the Spire, and Other Poems," also brought him fame as a writer. His first comedy, "By Wits Outwitted," scored an instantaneous success, and had a long and profitable run. His next comedy, "Other People's Money," was, if anything, a greater success than the first, having been produced in 1895 at Hoyt's Madison Square Theatre, New York City. It has continued playing each season, and is to-day one of the most popular as well as one of the most profitable organizations on the road. Mr. Towne next wrote a comedy for the vaudeville stage, called "A Game of Wits," played by the "Five Castilians," scoring one of the greatest successes ever made in vaudeville. His next effort was "The Little Dunkardess," pronounced by the press, the public, and managers as one of the greatest comedies ever produced. "A Masked Battery" is his latest and best work. It is astonishing how much comedy, fun, and merriment he has compressed into a twenty-five minute play. Several stories from his pen have appeared in the Century and Cosmopolitan magazines. His latest book, "Literary Dust," a book of sentences, is a very popular work.

Mr. Towne was married in 1889 to Miss Sara Johnston Cooper, a beautiful and accomplished lady. Their honeymoon was spent in Europe.

In his arguments in legal cases he is forceful, humorous, witty, and at times eloquent; and, with sharp and incisive questions and opinions falling from his lips with bewildering rapidity, there is everything to suggest the active and successful lawyer that he is. Those who a few years ago recognized him as one of the "coming men," now regard him as a man who has arrived, and is likely to remain.

[The above was written several years ago. Mr. Towne has recently informed the compiler of this book that he was about to abandon the profession of the law and devote his entire time to literature.]

Henry R. Towne was educated in private schools and at the University of Pennsylvania, and received the honorary degree of M.A. He engaged in business with the Port Richmond Iron Works as a mechanical draftsman for over four years, on general engineering for heavy marine engines for the monitors and other war vessels, the erection of which he superintended at Boston and Portsmouth navy yards.

In 1866 he made an extensive tour through England, Belgium, and France. In 1868 he entered into partnership with Lynus Yale, Jr., the inventor of the "Yale Lock," at Shelburne Falls, the business at that time requiring about thirty hands. The enterprise was incorporated under the name of the "Yale Lock Manufacturing Company," and the business transferred to Stamford, Conn. Mr. Yale died December, 1868, and Mr. Towne became president of the corporation, and a year later bought out the interest of the Yale estate. Since 1869 Mr. Towne has personally directed the affairs of the corporation, now employing one thousand men. In 1883 the corporate name was changed to "The Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company." In addition to their extensive lock business they now manufacture a great variety of fine hardware as well as heavy.

Mr. Towne has been president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and was chosen chairman of a party of three hundred American engineers, civil, mechanical, and mining, who visited England and France. He is a member of the Union League Engineers' Club of New York City, and of the Institution of Mechanical Engineers of London, and other scientific organizations; also a director in several other large industrial corporations.

HON. CHARLES A.⁹ TOWNE (*Charles Judson*⁸, *Levi*⁷, *Asa*⁶, *Jonathan*⁵, *Nathan*⁴, *Joseph*³, *Edmund*², *William*¹). b. in Oakland County, Mich., November 21, 1858. m. Maude Irene Wiley, April 20, 1887, at Lansing, Mich. She was b. October 1, 1864. No children, 1900.

Charles Arnette Towne, son of Charles Judson Towne and Laura Anne Fargo Towne, was educated in the common schools and University of Michigan. Graduated Ph.D., Literary Department of that institution, June, 1881. Admitted to bar, 1885. Practiced law at Marquette, 1886-89; at Chicago, Ill., 1889 and 1890, and since that time at Duluth, Minn. Declined nomination for Congress in Michigan, February, 1888. Elected to Congress, Duluth, Minn., 1894, on Republican ticket, by plurality of nearly 10,000 and majority of 3,400. Took leading part in Congress in advocacy of bimetallism. Left the Republican Party when its convention at St. Louis in 1896 repudiated the ancient traditions of the party. Ran in 1896 and 1898 as independent candidate for Congress with Democratic and Populist endorsement, being defeated by 719 and 441 respectively. Refused to run for Congress again in 1900. Became chairman of the Silver Republican National Committee, February, 1897, and remained so until June, 1900. Nominated for vice-president by the Populist National Convention at Sioux Falls, So. Dak., May, 1900. Refused to accept nomination for Vice-President by the Silver Republican National Convention at Kansas City, July, 1900, and was defeated for vice-presidential nomination before the Democratic National Convention at the same time and place.

A personal friend of his says he has always been intensely ambitious, and when he was a young and hustling newsboy he made the prediction that he would one day sit in Congress.

Mr. Towne has just been appointed (December 10, 1900) by the governor of Minnesota to fill a vacant seat in the United States Senate.

- ii. MARION ETTA. b. October 2, 1890.
- iii. BERTHA VIOLET. b. May 7, 1896.

Robert Duke Towne, son of Levi and Mary Ellen (Duke) Towne, was born at Warren, Ohio, January 4, 1866. The sketch is in his own words :

"I moved around pretty lively with my parents the first few years of my life, either going wherever they went or they going wherever I went. In this way I lived in quite a number of States before I was really able to decide which was best suited to my purposes, but finally located in West Virginia, on a plantation of three hundred acres, when I was four or five years old. With the assistance of an uncle and quite a number of hands who did the heavy work, I carried on this farm for a few years. Then went to Baltimore and served as clerk in a grocery store ; then in a laundry establishment ; then painted bedsteads in a furniture factory ; made trunks ; afterward ran a flouring mill ; entered the University of Pennsylvania and assisted the medical faculty in their department ; graduated from a divinity school, and got married. I then became an editor, and have been a plain newspaper man ever since. As I look back over my life, I can see how my diverse employments have all been beneficial. The farm taught me industry. In the furniture factory I learned to appreciate beauty in painting. In the laundry I learned the value of cleanliness and neatness of dress. In fact, I can now see that everything I know has been learned as I went along. Doubtless if I had had more time I might have acquired more knowledge. All in all, I have had a very interesting life. It is even more interesting to look back upon than it was at the time."

Mr. Towne is the editor of the Philadelphia Call, and is noted as a writer of humorous articles.

He was educated at the Union Free School of his native town and at Cook Academy, Harvard, N. Y. He early learned the building business with his father, mastering all of the details of the business by working actively with the men and studying evenings, until he became a member of the firm of A. W. Towne & Son, contractors and builders. In 1895 he entered the employ of the Ripley Lumber Company, of Poultney, Vt., with whom he was advanced to the position of building superintendent, which position he now fills. While at Cook Academy he became interested in the work of the Prohibition Party, and was elected president of the Students' Club in the campaign of 1884. He has been the candidate of his party for various offices, and was elected to the position of inspector of elections ; also as a member of the Board of Excise, after a stormy campaign in the interest of no-license in 1892. He has been the county chairman of this party for several years ; also the county chief templar of the Independent Order of Good Templars in Washington County. He enlisted, April 21, 1898, in Company A, First Vermont Infantry, U. S. V., and went with the regiment to Fort Ethan Allen and Chickamauga Park. Not being ordered to the front, the regiment was ordered home at the close of the war, and was mustered out November 3, 1898. On April 19, 1889, he was married to Winnie Pritchard, of Middle Granville, who died December 10, 1896, leaving no children.

- v. BYRON JAMES, JR. b. December 14, 1890.

Byron J. Towne, one of the enterprising and solid men of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., was born in that village, and received a liberal education in the schools of his native place and at North Chili, Monroe County, N.Y. He began the active business of life as a clerk, and through his own energy and ability has become a prosperous business man.

He was a trusted clerk in the post office, Saratoga Springs, for a period of ten years, after which he was a clerk for the Thomas & Brown Company for some time, finally becoming a partner in that concern.

In 1888 he was elected receiver of taxes for the town and village of Saratoga Springs for a term of three years, and was again elected in 1894, holding the office in all six years.

In the spring of 1898 he accepted the position of bookkeeper in the First National Bank of Saratoga Springs, N. Y. In all the positions which he has held, whether public or private, he has discharged his duties with the strictest fidelity and marked ability, and has merited the high esteem and public confidence which he enjoys.

Mr. Towne's parents were Francis A. and Emily (James) Towne. His great-grandfather, Francis Towne, was a patriot soldier in the Revolutionary War, and along with two brothers saw much active service in the struggle that won American independence.

The ever-famous battle of Bunker Hill was one of the engagements in which Francis Towne participated. A strong strain of fighting blood has pervaded the family on both sides for generations.

Mr. Towne's grandfather on his mother's side was an English soldier. Byron J. Towne's mother was born in London, England, but came to America when a child.

ORWELL D. TOWNE

Orwell D. Towne was born in the town of South Woodbury, Vt., August 2, 1844, the son of Elisha Towne and Phœbe B. (Celley) Towne. He was educated in the common schools of the same town and later graduated from the Hardwick Academy, Hardwick, Vt. Married Frances L. Brown, daughter of Joseph and Katharine (Scott) Brown, of Lowell, Vt.

Showing considerable business ability, his father purchased him an interest in a general merchandise store in the same town, and started him in business at the age of twenty-three, under the firm name of Adams & Towne. Two years later he succeeded by purchase to the control of the business. In 1874 he moved to Woodbury Centre, where he continued in business until 1880. In 1869 he was appointed postmaster at South Woodbury and later at Woodbury Centre, serving in this capacity for twelve years. He also served as deputy sheriff for eight years, constable and tax collector for four years, and at the same time was town auditor until he moved with his family in the spring of 1881 to Crandon, Spink County, So. Dak. He was among the first settlers in that part of the territory. Entered extensively into stock raising and wheat growing. Owned twenty-two hundred acres and controlled by lease a much larger tract. During his first ten years' residence here he served his town as chairman of the board of supervisors, school director, and justice of the peace respectively. Was delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago, Ill., in 1884. Served as chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Spink County one term. On the organization of the State of South Dakota he was largely instrumental in securing the election of several personal friends to prominent positions in the State, two of them, United States Senator Pettigrew and Governor Charles H. Sheldon being fellow pioneers with him from Vermont. He was prominent in establishing and putting in successful operation Redfield College, of Redfield, So. Dak. Organized the Sons and Daughters of Vermont, in Spink County, So. Dak.

He disposed of his landed interests in South Dakota in 1892, and from then to 1895 traveled through the South and Central States for the Northwestern Farm Mortgage Company of Redfield, So. Dak.

In 1895 he with his family removed to Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where he entered the employ of G. F. Harvey, as manager of his large and flourishing hardware business. In 1897 he purchased the business of G. F. Harvey, and has continued as manager of the same, which now bears the firm name of Towne Hardware Company (partnership). Associated with him are his sons A. E. Towne and G. S. Towne, and Francis L. Towne.

In 1897 he was elected to the board of trustees of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and at once took a leading part in the affairs and government of the village. At present he is president of one of the prominent political organizations of Saratoga County.

Mr. Towne has always been a great student, and much of his leisure is occupied in the study of ancient and modern history and ethics. He is a firm believer in higher education and has given his children every advantage. His son A. E. Towne is a graduate of Redfield College, South Dakota. G. S. Towne is a graduate of Union University (medical department). His daughter Katharine is a graduate of Temple Grove Seminary, Saratoga, N. Y. Orwell B. is taking a course at Williams College, while his remaining three children are now preparing for college in the Saratoga High School. Mr. Towne and his entire family are members of the New England Congregational Church of Saratoga, N. Y.

CAPT. CHARLES A.¹⁰ TOWNE (Allen W.⁹, Hiram⁸, Joseph⁷, Joseph⁶, Joseph⁵, Joseph⁴, Joseph³, Joseph², William¹). b. at Holland, May 13, 1866. m. Lucretia Belle Davison, October 5, 1893, who was b. at Willoughby, Ohio, October 7, 1871. At the age of sixteen (his mother being dead) he went with his father to Chicago, and was in his employ a few years, and later served two years in Chicago post office, 1885 and 1886. He soon after accepted a position again with his father, and continued till 1899, when he and a brother became sole proprietors of a large manufacturing business of soaps and soap powders. In 1887 he joined Company F, First Regiment of Illinois, National Guards, and rose from private, through each successive grade, to second lieutenant, which position he held at the breaking out of the Spanish-American War. He then went with his regiment into Camp Tanner, at Springfield, Ill.; was mustered into United States service May 13, 1898; was transferred to Camp Thomas for a short time; and June 2 was sent to Tampa, Fla., where the regiment remained till June 30, when they embarked for Cuba, and arrived at Saboney, July 9, and went into the trenches before Santiago, July 11, and was at the surrender, July 17. On August 5, out of a company of 109, there were but thirteen men fit for duty, the camp being a veritable hospital. August 24 his regiment left for Montauk Point, L. I., and left that place, September 7, for Chicago; and on reaching there, out of a total of 1,326 men, only 654 were present in line, the others having died or being sick in hospitals. He was in command of his company before Santiago, the captain remaining at Saboney. Since his return he has been elected to the captaincy of his company. Their children:

- i. CHARLES HIRAM. d. in infancy.
- ii. ALLEN ERASTUS. b. July 5, 1900.

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LAURA M. TOWNE‡

MOSTLY FROM NEWSPAPERS AFTER HER DEATH

On Friday, February 22, 1901, there passed peacefully from her chosen field of labor one who had for almost forty years given her means, her strength, her thought, and her heart to the great problem of negro education.

In the spring of 1862 Miss Laura M. Towne, daughter of John and Sarah (Robinson) Towne, of Philadelphia, started for the island of St. Helena, off the coast of South Carolina, at the first call of the government for teachers, as the island had come under military control of the United States. She was a young woman full of enthusiasm for the work of educating the freedman, and now and here was the opportunity offered.

She found the island deserted by white people, except by a small guard of soldiers. There were about six thousand negroes, ignorant and dependent. Contrast that with the island of the present day and the magnitude of her work is at once apparent. Miss Towne was a woman of no mean ability or station. She was of a very wealthy and prominent family, highly educated, had taken a full course in medicine, and was a graduate physician. She was a refined woman of the best type and moving in the best society. Few women could have done what Miss Towne did. She began in a most unpromising field, under great disadvantages, and with a great work before her, for which she furnished the means from her own private fortune. She went into their homes, healed the sick, and taught them the importance of cleanliness. She taught them of the evil effects of liquor, and formed a temperance society of over fifteen hundred members. She taught them to be self-reliant, to raise their own food and build their own houses. By degrees the one-roomed log cabins were replaced by small and comfortable houses, the children coming to their lessons in neat clothing. The young men and women after graduating found employment awaiting them as teachers in the government schools.

The world has heard but little of Miss Towne's school. It is in an isolated place, and the superintendent is modest as well as generous. But her school does for its pupils and their parents just what Hampton Institute does on a larger scale, and implants the same principles that Booker Washington inculcates at his now famous Tuskegee Institute. The government of South Carolina soon recognized the value of Miss Towne's work, and gradually appointed her as superintendent of other schools, until she had the supervision of seventeen schools beside her own.

Every waking hour of her time was occupied. She acted as the physician of the island, and her knowledge of law was such that the people brought their disputes for her to settle, and she was able to do other legal business. There were no police, nor were any needed. Crimes were unknown, and very little lawlessness of any description, such was her influence over the people.

Miss Towne had been in feeble health for some time, but the end came suddenly. It must have been a picturesque sight when, on the morning after her death, a procession of several hundred men, women, and children took up their march for the ferry, before the simple mule cart bearing the body. Even at the ferry the people could not give the precious burden up to strangers. Some of them crossed to the mainland to bear it to the cars. As the boat pushed off from the island, the beautiful voices which their beloved teacher had helped to train broke forth into some of the melodies she had loved to hear them sing. We believe if the whole true story of her life were told, — of her sacrifice of home with all its pleasures, of her sacrifice of her fortune, of the sweet companionship of friends, and of her constant devotion to her work, to the carrying out of this great undertaking, — that she would be acknowledged the most heroic, earnest, and faithful friend the colored race has ever known. During these years she had the assistance of another noble and devoted woman in the person of Miss Ellen Murray, who soon joined her in the work which has been carried on by them hand in hand, without interruption, until the hands of Miss Towne were folded in death for that heavenly rest which she had earned so well.

FAMILIES LIVING IN THE SOUTHERN STATES

WHO DO NOT THINK THEY DESCENDED FROM WILLIAM AND JOANNA, BUT CAN GIVE NO FURTHER INFORMATION.

S. B. Townes, attorney, of Columbus, Ga., gives the following. This line spell their name with the final letter "s." He thinks his ancestors settled first in Virginia, so for convenience we will call this William¹.

WILLIAM¹ TOWNES settled in the county of Kent on York River. m. Rebecca Clarke. Their children were Richard², William², John², James², Priscilla², Judith², Elizabeth², and Rebecca².

RICHARD² TOWNES, son of William¹, m., and left one dau., Mary³, who m., first, Joseph Royall, of Amelia, Va., who d. and left five sons; second, John L. Cooper, and had three children.

WILLIAM² TOWNES, son of William¹, m., and left one son, William³, Jr., who d. under age, and his valuable estate passed, under the old English laws, to Mary³, the only child of Richard², deceased.

JOHN² TOWNES, son of William¹, m. Martha Allen, of New Kent, and left nine children: Richard³, John³, Priscilla³, Rebecca C.³, William³, James³, Allen³, Martha A.³, Armistead T.³ Richard³ d. unm. John³ m. Elizabeth Leigh, and had two sons and two daus.: John L.⁴, Paschall⁴, Elizabeth T.⁴, Nancy L.⁴. John L.⁴ m. Polly Eggleston. Paschall⁴ m., first, Mary Overton; second, Lucy Walker. Elizabeth T.⁴ m. John T. Leigh. Nancy L.⁴ m. William Leigh.

JAMES² TOWNES, son of William¹, m., first, Rachel Marrett Booker, in 1792 (the first date given), who d., leaving one dau., Judith³, who m. Joseph Smith, of Tennessee; second, Lucy Worsham, who d., leaving two sons and two daus.: Dr. J. M.³, who m. Betsey Leigh; Lucy³, who m. Richard Leigh; Martha³, who m. John Leigh; and Samuel Allen³.

PRISCILLA² TOWNES, dau. of William¹, m. Z. G. Leigh, and had three sons and two daus.

JUDITH² TOWNES, dau. of William¹, m. William Walker, and had two sons and five *dau.*s.

ELIZABETH² TOWNES, dau. of William¹, m. Richard Clough, and had one son and six *dau.*s.

REBECCA² TOWNES, dau. of William¹, m. William Mosely, of Powhattan, and had two sons and two *dau.*s.

WILLIAM³ TOWNES, son of John², m. Nancy Godwin. No children.

JAMES³ TOWNES, son of John², m. Molly Allen, and had two children: John⁴, who m. Betsey Lewis, his cousin; Elizabeth⁴, who m. John Royall.

ALLEN³ TOWNES, son of John², m. Judith Jones, and had three sons and five *dau.*s: Robert⁴, who m. Patty Eggleston; Richard A.⁴, who m. Betsey Ann Leigh, and had two *dau.*s.; Augusta A.⁴, who m. Mr. Bush; Maria⁴, who m. William Jones; Martha R.⁴, who m. John R. Read, of Petersburg, Va.; Armistead T.⁴, who m., first, Rebecca H. Booker, who d., leaving one dau., Amelia R. A.⁵, who m. John T. Bottom, of Amelia, Va.; second, Eliza M. Giles, November, 1808, and had sixteen children. In 1852, of these children the following were m.: Virginia A.⁵ m. F. A. Tyler; Adolphus D.⁵ m. Fanny Giles; Columbus⁵ m. Junius L. Leigh; Richard⁵ m. Eliza Meek; Martha⁵ m. E. S. Fisher.

WILLIAM A. TOWNES, an attorney in Richmond, Va., was b. there about 1867. His parents d. in 1873, when he was a mere child, and he has no reliable information to give. His grandfather, Armistead Townes, lived on a large plantation called "Oak Hill," where he was b. in 1780. In 1837 he moved to Mississippi. It is pretty evident that the Armistead Townes named above is his grandfather.

SAMUEL ALLEN³ TOWNES came from Virginia to South Carolina about 1791, and settled, when about eighteen years of age, in Greenville District, where he m. Rachel Stokes. Their children were Washington⁴, Eliza⁴, Henry H.⁴, John A.⁴, William A.⁴, Samuel A.⁴. Eliza⁴ m. John Blassingame.

WASHINGTON⁴ TOWNES, son of Samuel A.³, d. in infancy.

HENRY HAMILTON⁴ TOWNES, son of Samuel A.³, m. Lucretia Calhoun, his cousin, and niece of the great John C. Calhoun. Their children: Samuel Allen⁵, d. young; Henry H.⁵, d. young; Katharine F.⁵, m. Mr. Graves.

JOHN ALLEN⁴ TOWNES, son of Samuel A.³, d. unm.

WILLIAM AUGUSTUS⁴ TOWNES, son of Samuel A., m. Fanny Seawell, of Marion, Ala. Their children: Mary Eliza; Fanny A.; Indiana, m. J. K. Earle, of Greenville, S. C.; Rosa, m. Dr. Thompson; Alice, d. young; Samuel Allen, who d. when about twenty years of age; Margaret S., d. young.

SAMUEL ALLEN⁴ TOWNES, son of Samuel A.³, m. Joanna Lois Hall, of Charleston, S. C. Their children: Tweedy, d. young; Samuel Allen, Jr., m. Mary Thompson, of Greenville, S. C., and had three children; Henry Hamilton, m. Sallie Harris, and has two sons: Willis Glover and Henry H.; George Franklin, m. Julia L. White, and had several children; John Allen, d. young; Georgie, m. W. G. Harris, and has one daur.

GEORGE FRANKLIN⁵ TOWNES, son of Samuel A.⁴, m., first, Elizabeth Sloan, of Greenville, S. C., and had Samuel Allen, who d. young; Alexander, who m. twice, and has five children living; Ella, m. S. P. Brooks; Elizabeth, m., first, J. H. Dargan; second, P. H. Adams. George M. m., second, Henrietta Ann Johnson, and had four daus. and one son, William; third, Mary Isabella Keith, and had two daus. and one son, Henry.

WILLIAM I. TOWNES, a lawyer in Atlanta, Ga., and a brother to Professor A. S. Townes, of Greenville, S. C., whose father was a practicing lawyer there before and after the war, are grandchildren of Samuel A.³ above, who, they say, came to South Carolina about 1800. A. S. Townes is a professor in a college in Greenville.

These families spell their names thus: Towns. They think they do not belong to the New England branch, and it is not certain they do.

JAMES TOWNS, of Madison County, Ga., lived to be over one hundred years old. He was first cousin to George Washington Towne, who was governor of Georgia in 1848 and 1849. His children: Richard, William D., Drury.

RICHARD TOWNS, son of James, moved from Warren County, N. C., to Lincoln County, Ga. His children: John, Randall, Lewis, Edmund, Peter, Gideon.

GIDEON TOWNS, son of Richard, b. in Elbert County, Ga., in 1787. m. — Corbin, of Virginia. d. in Telfair County, Ga., in 1873. Their children: Johnson C., James, Peter, Mary, Sarah.

JOHNSON C. TOWNS, b. in Lincoln County, Ga., December 19, 1819. m. three times. Moved to Telfair County over fifty years ago. Their children: Eliza E., John, Gideon, Elisha E., Daniel R., Jeremiah M.

JEREMIAH M. TOWNS, son of Johnson C., b. at Towns, Ga., April 29, 1859. m. Sarena L. Wood, March 20, 1877. Their children: Edward D., Addie L., Luther A., Ida B., Eula L., Emma, Ruth, Esther Pearl.

The name of the town was given in honor of Johnson C. Towns, who was the first settler in the place. He was postmaster for a good many years, and afterward his son Jeremiah had the office for eighteen years. He was a noble Christian gentleman, and had the confidence and esteem of all who knew him.

EDWARD D. TOWNS, son of Jeremiah, who gives the above account, has been a school teacher and is now a photographer in Towns, Ga.

DANIEL TOWNS lived in South Carolina, and m. — Roark, of Madison, Ga. Their children: Louisa, Dickens, Nancy, Lizzie, Jack-son, Daniel, Charlotte, Martha, Washington, James, John, Henry.

HENRY TOWNS, son of Daniel, m. Alice Eaton, and lives in Athens, Ga. Their children: Lena Mae, Lula, Willie, Henry.

Bartley, William, and John Towns were brothers who came from Virginia and settled in Georgia. Their records and all their property were destroyed during the Civil War, and what follows is all I can learn.

BARTLEY TOWNS m. and had these children: John Terry, b. in 1797; Bartley, Jr., moved to Polk County, Texas, in 1822, and had five children, and some of them live in that county now; Henry, who was a frontiersman among the Indians in Alabama, lived and d. in Coosa County, Ala., and had three sons and two daus. (one son was in the army and lost an arm; others of the family are in Alabama, but no trace of them); Lucy.

JOHN TERRY TOWNS, son of Bartley, b. in Georgia, in 1797. m., first, Julia Bearsley, who d. in 1848; second, Julia E. Wyman. Their children: J. Oliver, b. August 18, 1825; John Randolph, b. September 25, 1829, was lieutenant-colonel of cavalry in the Civil War, and was killed; William, d. in infancy; Mary Ann, b. October 22, 1838, m. Graves Swanton, in Lagrange, Ga.; William, killed in battle in 1864; Henry Harrison, b. in 1841, was in the Civil War, and is alive now; Habesham Clay, b. in 1844, was in the war, and lives in Mountville, Ga., and has one son, George, and one dau., Lula Belle; Cerra Gorda, d. young; Buena Vista, d. young; Palo Alto, d. young; Julia Terry, m. — Strozier, of Greenville, S. C.

J. OLIVER TOWNS, son of John Terry, b. August 18, 1825. m., first, Isabella Reid, in 1854, who d.; second, Sarah (Barnes) Allen, November 1, 1860. He owns and lives on a good farm in Senoia, Ga. Their children: Stephen Terry, m., and left a son, now in Taboro, N. C.; Charles B., b. January 12, 1862, m. Mamie Barbour, October 10, 1887, in Florida, and lives in New York City; Thomas Randolph, b. November 16, 1863, m. Annie Sherlock, in Florida, August 19, 1891; Jarrell Beasley, b. September 25, 1865, m. Emma Hunter, d. in 1894; Lulu Belle, b. August 25, 1867, m. Dr. J. H. Maddox, of Culloden, Ga., in 1889; Walter Pope, b. February 19, 1870, d. in 1897; Julia Frances, b. December 10, 1872, d. in infancy; Mary Eveline, b. November 18, 1876, m. W. W. Banks, of Senoia, Ga., June 10, 1896; Henry H., b. August 19, 1878, d. in 1884; Oliver, d. in infancy.

Last descendants of Bartley.

WILLIAM TOWNS, brother of Bartley, m., and had these children: William, unm., lived in Alabama, where he d., very rich and left his fortune to a sister, who m. Baxton Harrison; a dau., and no more known.

JOHN TOWNS, brother of William and Bartley, b. in Georgia. m. Wife unknown. He fought in the battles of Eutaw Springs and the Cowpens in 1781. The family were from Virginia and moved to Georgia. Their children: George Washington, b. May 4, 1802; two daus., whose names are unknown.

GEORGE WASHINGTON TOWNS, son of John, b. May 4, 1802. His poor health, until thirty years old, prevented him from receiving a classical education, but he obtained one sufficient to enable him to make his mark in the world. He studied law, and went to Alabama and was admitted to practice in 1824. In 1826 he returned to Georgia, where he became very popular and represented the county in both branches of the State legislature. In 1834 he was elected to Congress and reelected in 1836. In 1839 he resumed the law until 1845, when he was elected to Congress again. He was elected governor in 1847 and reelected in 1849. He was a very kind-hearted and genial companion, but of unassuming manners. d. in 1854. He had a daur. Lou, who was a prominent personage in his household during his terms in office.

MISCELLANEOUS BRANCHES

The following records have been gathered from various sources,—some from newspapers, others from town or city records and histories, and without any further information. Thinking that some names might appear here which would be known by some of the readers of this book, and thereby enable them to trace them to their proper ancestors, it has been deemed best to insert them here, for without any doubt they belong to some of our New England families.

HISTORICAL NOTES

OXFORD RECORDS

In the year 1713 a tract of land of eleven thousand two hundred and fifty acres was deeded in trust to certain persons named in the deed, and to the first thirty Protestant families who would come and settle there was distributed by lot thirty acres to each family. Of these thirty families, John Towne and his two sons Ephraim and Israel were among them. At the first town meeting, July 22, 1713, John Towne was chosen town clerk, and the grant of land was attested to by him, as can be seen on records with other deeds in Suffolk County. John was also chosen selectman, and was the first deacon in the church, which office he held for many years. He d. in 1740, aged eighty-two years. The office of town clerk was afterwards held by Benjamin F. and Sylvanus.

The first church was organized January 20, 1720, and among its members were John, Israel, and David, with their wives. This John was formerly of Framingham, and was the first selectman there and held the office for twelve years, and was a church official. He was the John who first dropped the final "e" from his name.

AMHERST, N. H.

The "Association Test" which was in existence during the Revolution, and which all loyal citizens of twenty-one years of age were requested to sign, reads as follows:—

"We, the subscribers, do hereby solemnly engage and promise that we will to the utmost of our power, at the risk of our lives and fortunes, with arms oppose the hostile proceedings of the British fleets and armies against the United American Colonies."

Those not signing the above were watched and looked upon with suspicion, and suspected of being more loyal to the Crown than to their adopted country. Among those who signed in this town were six "Townes," two of whom served through the entire war.

WORCESTER COUNTY HISTORY

The name of John ⁵ Towne (the grandfather of the writer) appears among the enlisted men from the town of Dana in the Revolutionary War. At the first town meeting after the incorporation of the town, he was chosen one of the assessors, and was one of three of the largest landholders.

The following names and locations are inserted to confirm and strengthen the theory that all these "Townes" or "Towns" in the South and West who cannot give their ancestry are the descendants of those who went from the Eastern States, as above shown, and who were descended from William and Joanna. The writer has found only two or three families who can give a record of their arrival in this country from England at a later date.

Herman and Calvin Towne went to New York State about 1820.

Francis Towne went to New York State.

Amos Towne went from Oxford to Greenfield, N. Y., and had three boys and three girls.

Davis Towne went to New York State.

Isaac Towne went to New York State, and had a large family.

Amos Towne went to Litchfield, N. Y.

Alexander Towne went to New York State.

Daniel Towne went West in 1760.

Delmar Towne went South.

Ezra Towne went to Virginia.

George Washington Towne went West.

Moses Towne went to Ohio in 1775.

Asa Towne settled in Newark, Ohio.

And many others went West and South in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

INDEX V

This index contains the names of Southern families who spell their name "Towns" and "Townes" and who think they are descended from some other than William and Joanna. It is by no means certain, for no one of them can give their line of descent, and the writer has been unable to find any record of the arrival at any port of any family. Intermarriages are not given.
